Where's Everybody Gone?

Back-to-school-day today means only loneliness for this youngster, a four-year-old who just isn't quite old enough to join her older friends in elementary classes. She is Lyn Gawiuk, 3463 Henderson, and her enthusiasm for school may not be matched by the 32,000 who did go.

Troops Keep School Closed

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—Governor George Wallace, risking federal retaliation, kept the Tuskegee public school closed by force today despite the local school board's reluctant willingness to obey a federal court desegregation order.

Blue-helmeted state troopers, redoubled in strength and supported for the first time by mounted sheriff's deputies, kept students and teachers out of the school to enforce the governor's orders to postpone the start of the fall term until next Monday.

Students in the Consolidated Elementary-High School were turned back as they approached the red-brick building for the second straight day even though the Macon County Board of Education said that as far as it was concerned the school was open.

Thus the 12-grade school—for whites only before the desegregation order—was ready for the return of pupils from the summer vacation but the 215 armed state troopers surrounded the building refused to let them in.

Col. Al Lingo, commanding the troopers, said only principal E. W. Wadsworth would be admitted to the building.

Even teachers were turned away because, Lingo said, "school is closed and they have no business in there."

Wallace issued a strongly-worded executive order directing the school board to postpone the start of fall classes in the one school Monday because of what he called the threat of violence.

"The Tuskegee school was the only one affected by Wallace's order."

A parent, Mrs. P. M. Wadsworth, walked up to the ring of state troopers with a group of students and asked if they could enter. She got no reply, but the uniformed patrolmen stood steadfast and allowed no one even to cross the street to the school.

Mrs. Wadsworth asked the students, "Do you all want to go to school?"

When they replied "yes, ma'am," Mrs. Wadsworth appealed to the troopers, "Please tell Governor Wallace our children want to go to school."

There was no indication of federal intervention.

Two Blows Killed Boy

By DESMOND BILL

George Down was murdered by two blows on the head, one with a blunt instrument and the other with something sharp, a coroner's inquest revealed today.

This is the latest revelation in the case which began at 4:30 Friday morning when the body of the 17-year-old delivery boy was found on a ramp in the Hudson's Bay Co. Parkade.

But police say no conclusions can be drawn from the two different types of wounds on Down's head.

Detective Inspector Charles Webb said the same instrument, used in a different way, could have caused both wounds.

He said police do not think at the moment that the two wounds indicate there were two assailants.

Six Quebec MPs Back Thompson

GRANBY, Que. (CP)—Two distinct groups of Quebec Social Credit members of Parliament—one supporting Robert Thompson, national party leader, and the other Real Caouette, deputy national leader, are the result of the weekend convention of the Quebec wing of the party.

The split in Social Credit ranks is expected to leave each man with 11 followers in the House of Commons, and two different Social Credit parties in Quebec province.

Mr. Thompson moved quickly after 500 delegates at a Le Ralliement Des Creditistes meeting overwhelmingly voted Sunday to disown him as national leader and also issued a call for a national convention to elect a new one.

He flew into Montreal Monday from his home in Red Deer, Alta., and a press conference was held later at which six Quebec Social Credit MPs pledged support to him as national leader.

Crews Back on Job After 6-Hour Tieup

By FRANK RUTTER

A wildcat walkout today halted provincial government ferry service between Nanaimo and Horseshoe Bay for six hours.

Disgruntled ferry crews refused to sail the Sechart Queen at 6:30 a.m. in protest against layoffs and working hours.

Three ferries were tied up all morning at Departure Bay and Horseshoe Bay.

The men returned to work at 12:30 p.m. after they received assurances of meetings with ferry officials to settle their problems.

After a hastily-called cabinet meeting this morning, Premier Bennett told reporters: "They're sailing again."

TRUCK FLIPS, CRUSHES 5 CHILDREN

VIMY RIDGE MINES, Que. (CP)—Five children playing on a pile of boards were killed Monday in a freak accident when a heavy truck loaded with rock overturned on them.

Provincial police at nearby Thetford Mines, Que., said the ground suddenly gave way under the truck and it crushed the children when it flipped over sideways.

The five were Bruno Turgeon, 10, Bruno LaFlamme, 8, Solange Dupuis, 7, Catherine Gregoire, 9, and Luc Martin, 6.

Police said Paulette Turgeon was taken to hospital with severe injuries.

The children were playing at a playground in Vimy Ridge Mine, 120 miles southeast of Montreal.

'Quake Toll Mounts In Kashmir

(Times News Services)

SRINAGAR, Kashmir—Rescue teams burrowing in the ruins of 60 earthquake-shattered villages near here have dug out 77 bodies and more victims were expected, it was announced here today.

The death toll may be higher than the 100 originally estimated, officials said.

At least 500 persons were being treated for injuries suffered in a violent quake which shook rural districts early Monday and destroyed an estimated 2,000 houses.

About 50 persons with serious injuries were being treated in Srinagar hospital and four were reported in critical condition. About 370 injured were being treated here and in other hospitals in the Kashmir Valley.

Srinagar, 10 miles from the quake area, was undamaged. Flimsy mud houses in the rural districts were hard hit.

Bedposts Weapons

REIDSVILLE (Ga. AP)—Screaming, rampaging prisoners assaulted guards with metal posts wrenched from beds today before tear gas was used to quell a riot at Georgia State Prison.

Diem's Brother Must Go

KENNEDY CRACKS DOWN ON S. VIET NAM GOV'T

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy publicly cracked down on the government of South Viet Nam Monday night in a move apparently aimed at forcing the removal from power of the brother of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

If President Diem is unwilling or unable to remove quickly his powerful brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, U.S. officials indicated today the Kennedy administration will feel compelled to consider other measures.

These measures, it is understood, will include a review of the U.S. aid program with possible cutbacks to follow.

Kennedy told a country-wide television audience in an interview from Hyannis Port, Mass., that the war against Communist forces in Viet Nam could not be won unless the Diem government makes "a greater effort" to win popular support. He said that changes in policy

B.C. Socreds Rap Caouette

B.C. Socreds today turned on Real Caouette, the man they once supported as national leader.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner, suggested by the Caouette Quebec rebels as a new leader, said he would not be interested during the current provincial election campaign.

Labor-Education Minister Leslie Peterson, who nominated Mr. Caouette for the leadership two years ago, said B.C. is definitely not inviting Mr. Caouette or any Ottawa help for the campaign.

"If everything we read about the Quebec meeting is continued on Page 2"

Wide Support For Thompson

CALGARY (CP)—Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta said Monday the breakaway of the "Caouette faction" from the Canadian Social Credit movement was a good thing.

He said the dispute will not affect the party in Alberta and the Quebec group has no right to elect a national leader.

SUPPORT THOMPSON

The six Quebec MPs who issued a statement of support following a meeting with Mr. Thompson, which he said was held at their invitation, were: Maurice Cote, Chicoutimi; Marc Lessard, Lac St. Jean; Gerard Ouellet, Rimouski; party whip Jean-Louis Frenette, Portneuf; Gerard Girouard, Labelle; and Gerard Chapdelaine, Sherbrooke.

Lucien Plourde, Quebec West, also attended the meeting in Montreal with Mr. Thompson but did not sign the statement although he was reported on the verge of supporting the national leader.

Of the six who backed the statement supporting Mr. Thompson, as national leader.

SAINT JOHN (CP)—Dr. Langis Robichaud, president of the New Brunswick Social Credit League, has repudiated the stand taken by Quebec Socreds at their weekend rally and said New Brunswick Socreds stand fully behind Robert Thompson as national leader.

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Ontario Social Credit League today swung its full support behind National Leader Robert N. Thompson in his power struggle with Quebec Deputy Real Caouette.

Diem's Brother Must Go

"and perhaps in personnel" are needed to produce victory.

The president, however, carefully refrained from advocating any specific plan of action for the Vietnamese.

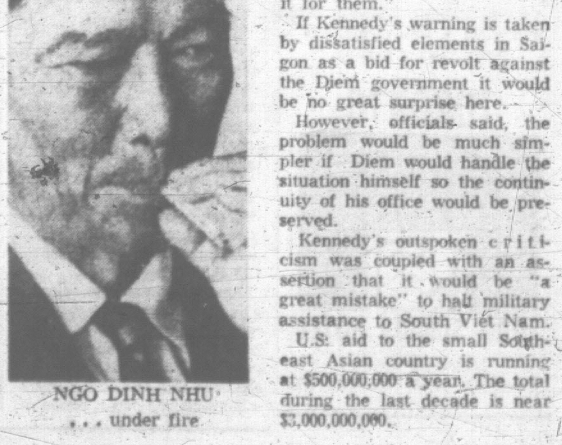

As one official put it: "The Vietnamese will have to clean house themselves; we can't do it for them."

If Kennedy's warning is taken by dissatisfied elements in Saigon as a bid for revolt against the Diem government it would be no great surprise here.

However, officials said, the problem would be much simpler if Diem would handle the situation himself so the continuity of his office would be preserved.

Kennedy's outspoken criticism was coupled with an assertion that it would be "a great mistake" to halt military assistance to South Viet Nam.

U.S. aid to the small Southeast Asian country is running at $500,000,000 a year. The total during the last decade is near $3,000,000,000.

THIS WORLD OF OURS

People and Things

(Times News Services)

WASHINGTON—The girls at the Gayety Burlesque were barely left with anything to take off.

"The strippers have been outstripped," moaned manager Sam Goldberg. "But in the best tradition of show business, they went on with their bumps and grinds."

"The girls are improvising," said Goldberg modestly. "And, to put it mildly, improvising on a burlesque dancer's flimsy attire is no snip."

The dancers rummaged through their ransacked wardrobes and came up with enough to make one mismatched costume.

Performing one at a time in Monday's four-hour matinee, each girl shed one item of clothing at a time and tossed it into the wings for the next dancer to wriggle into.

The makeshift costume didn't always fit, but Ginger Lee solved that:

"If something was too big, I put a knot in it. If it was too small, I'd rip it and hold it together with a pin," she said.

"Most of it was too small," she confided.

A detective's estimate that the loss totalled $473 was challenged by Goldberg, who said it was more like $3,000.

"That stuff costs. A good G-string with rhinestones will run you $50," he said. "It has to be custom-made."

ABERDEEN, Scotland—Sheep appear to choose their own friends and have social barriers in their relations with others in their flocks, a British scientist said here today.

Dr. R. E. Hunter, a biologist at the Hill Farming Research organization in Edinburgh, told the British Association for the Advancement of Science of studies made of social behavior in sheep.

"Each hill sheep is restricted to a particular part of a hill pasture, not by physical barriers but by social barriers," he said.

"It establishes an ownership over various patches of vegetation and follows a seasonally varying daily routine in visiting and grazing these patches," he said.

Members of families tend to be found in the same parts of a hill pasture," he added.

GANGES—Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Stokes of North Vancouver hauled in a 12-pound ling cod off Salt Spring Island and recovered a set of tackle they had lost with a cod only the day before. Then they threw in their line again, this time coming up with an eight-pound cod—and this one was carrying two sets of tackle in its mouth.

CAIRNS, Australia—Attendants at a zoo here described how a white mouse battled with a deadly Taipan snake—and won.

The mouse was left in a cage as live food in case the newly-captured Taipan, one of the world's most venomous snakes, became hungry.

But the mouse became hungry first and attacked the snake, which had to be removed from the cage with cuts and grazes on its back, the attendants said.

LINCOLN, Neb.—The James Bucks of Lincoln, Neb., have a problem—they keep finding money around their place and don't know where it comes from.

As the facts were presented to Lincoln police, the mystery began Aug. 1 when the Bucks found $40 in the corner of their garage.

A few days later another $10 showed up on the floor of their car. Shortly afterwards another $18 was found, this time under the family bathtub.

Last Friday Buck was just leaving for work when his wife found a $50 bill just inside the front screen door.

That makes $118 found and police admit they are having trouble figuring out just who is giving the bucks to the Bucks and why.

LONDON—British osteopaths are enjoying a boom following the sensational case of London society osteopath Stephen Ward, the Sunday newspaper, The Citizen, reports. The number of those applying for treatment to the British School of Osteopathy has increased 30 per cent since the Ward case and the number of young people wanting to study at the school also has shot up, according to the report.

The paper quotes the administrative officer to the general council and register of osteopathy as saying:

"It would take a public relations expert to explain it."

LONDON—Prince Philip has unwittingly given Britain a new dance craze.

It's a twitching, hip-swinging number called The Blues, which includes as one of its key steps a movement known as The Philip. This imitates the familiar hands-clasped-behind-the-back stance and walk of the prince on public occasions.

Marie Carthmell, a professional dance demonstrator, gave this description:

"You relax all over, put on a deadpan face and drift into the blues beat nice and easy opposite your partner—but not touching. Then you swing over hips from right to left and start twitching—hands, feet and head."

TWO BLOWS

Wilson said at this morning's inquest that the actual cause of Down's death was a fractured skull.

The dead youth, who lived at 363 Kinver, had a bruise behind his ear which would have been caused by a blunt instrument, she said.

But Dr. Wilson said that scalp cuts must have been made by something sharp. The inquest was adjourned to Oct. 1.

TIME FIXED

Other developments in the search for Down's killer are:

• The victim was seen walking alone towards the Bay about an hour before he was murdered.

• The time of his death has been set at about 1:15 or 1:20.

• A search of roofs around the Bay has failed to turn up the murder weapon.

• Uniformed constables have been put in plainclothes and sent out to assist detectives in following up leads.

Insp. Webb said two friends of the dead youth saw him walking past City Hall at 12:20 a.m. Friday. This is as far as police have been able to trace Down's movements.

SEARCHED ROOFS

Insp. Webb said: "We need help. If anyone saw anything move in that area early Friday we would like them to contact us."

Police Monday used a fire department ladder to climb on the roofs of buildings within a one-block area of the store.

They were looking for the murder weapon on the chance the killer might have thrown it on a roof as he made his escape from the scene.

Insp. Webb said he has had numerous calls from persons who knew Down during the past month. Police would like to interview anyone who knew anything about the youth.

Insp. Webb promised that any information given will be kept confidential. He may be contacted at EV 2-2100.

Drownings
In B.C. Take Heavy Toll

By THE CANADIAN PRESS.

Repeated warnings about highway driving apparently paid off in B.C. this Labor Day holiday weekend. Half the usual number died in crashes.

On the water, however, it was a much different picture.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Monday showed five highway deaths and eight drownings.

Two of the five highway fatalities occurred on the last day of August, giving a month-long total of 11 deaths. This is a big drop from the 32 killed in August 1962, and was the first sharp reverse in an upward trend in highway deaths which started in January.

Traffic deaths:
Mrs. Maggie Joseph, 35, and Mrs. Placida Joseph, 42, of the Fountain Indian reserve, killed when their car plunged 200 feet down an embankment Saturday near Lillooet.

Lloyd Scott, 29, and Mrs. Phyllis Blair, 39, both of Calgary, and an unidentified B.C. resident, killed in a two-car collision Sunday near Windermere.

The drownings:

William Harold Worley, 47, Victoria; Robert L. Jones, 47, Richmond; Peter Hueulak, 2, Hedley, B.C.; James D. Hardy, 16, Langley; James Stewart, 25, Kitimat; Martin Joseph Saunders, 60, Prince Rupert; and an unidentified man who was drowned when a gillnetter sank in Prince Rupert harbor; Lloyd Matthews, 25, hunter, who fell into Stuart Lake.

B.C. SOCREDS

true, Caouette certainly would be an embarrassment if he were here, Mr. Peterson said.

Said Mr. Bonner: "Certain of his views strike no responsive chord in B.C. and to this extent he would be misunderstood."

Archie Browne, president of the B.C. Social Credit League, said Mr. Caouette "to offer to campaign in B.C., but it would not be accepted."

Mr. Caouette made the offer last week.

"Robert Thompson was elected in an open convention—so he is leader. Only another convention can change that," said Mr. Browne.

Premier Bennett would say only that B.C. is fighting a provincial election and the party is not inviting anyone from outside the province.

Dr. Charles Ennals, National Young Socred president who is the Oak Bay provincial nomination, said Mr. Caouette has proved himself unsuitable to be a leader by "irresponsible statements."

"We are very disturbed by the apparent breakdown in Quebec," he said.

"But the statements made by Mr. Caouette had the immediate effect of disqualifying him as a candidate for leadership."

CAOINETE UNWANTED

Dr. Ennals said he was sure that the people of Canada as a whole, and even Socreds in Quebec, would not want Mr. Caouette as leader.

"We stand four square behind Mr. Thompson," he said.

Mr. Bonner said he has three reasons for turning down the Quebec bid for him to be leader.

"First, Mr. Thompson is the leader."

"I'm devoting my time to the B.C. Sept. 30 election."

"I have no desire to leave provincial politics for the time being."

Premiums Cut
For Medicare

REGINA (CP)—Personal premiums levied on Saskatchewan residents for the operation of the compulsory provincial medical care insurance and hospital insurance plans in the 1964 calendar year will be reduced to $52 a year from $72 a year for families and to $26 a year from $36 a year for single persons.

Premier Woodrow Lloyd, announcing the reductions at a press conference here today, said they are possible because a surplus of about $9,000,000 has been built up in the medical care insurance fund.

Announce New Healing Substance...
Shrinks Piles, Checks Itch

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids... and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissues.

One hemorrhoidal case history after another reported "very striking improvement." Pain was promptly and gently relieved... actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

Among these case histories were a variety of hemorrhoidal conditions. Relief even occurred in cases of long standing, and most important of all, results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue. Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment, and suppository form called Preparation H.

In addition to actually shrinking hemorrhoids, Preparation H lubricates and makes elimination less painful. It helps prevent infection which is a principal cause of hemorrhoids.

Just ask your druggist for Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment (with a special applicator).

the toll authority's plan to lay off a summer replacement crew on Sept. 15, two weeks before the end of the summer schedule.

Mr. O'Connor said crews would be forced to work 21 days before getting two days off.

He said they had in some cases been working up to 38 days without a break, sometimes for 14 hours a day.

"There has been complete and utter dissatisfaction and morale just broke down completely," he said.

He said personnel relations had always been "sub-standard." We tried to help the situation, but nobody paid any attention to us."

He said his letter to the civil service commission Aug. 26 asked for a meeting to try to resolve the problems.

The commission replied "it was not sure if it had any jurisdiction."

His letter to the premier also Aug. 26 warned that morale was at a breaking point, he said.

Commented the premier today:

"These employees have done a wonderful job. They tell me the management of the ferries tried to work out a plan for them."

This plan, he said, was to compensate for long working hours in summer with full pay during reduced winter schedules.

Two Killed
At Dam Site

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two ironworkers died Sunday when a section of scaffolding collapsed at the site of the Portage Mountain dam in north-eastern B.C.

The B.C. Hydro and Power Authority released their names here as Anthony Beer, 43, of Vancouver, and William C. Wylie, 22, of New Westminster.

A third man, Robert Buchanan of Matsqui, also fell after the collapse at the exit of a diversion tunnel. But Buchanan apparently grabbed a cable and the others fell below, dying instantly.

Buchanan was in good condition in hospital with undisclosed injuries.

Thompson, five of them and Mr. Plourde did not support the Granby convention resolutions in a caucus held after the vote. Mr. Chapdelaine did not attend the hall meeting.

The statement of the six said they could not endorse the Granby resolutions because their voters elected them as party members, thus implicitly recognizing Mr. Thompson's leadership.

Dr. Marcoux, sitting as an independent Social Credit member, said "the reasons forcing me to resign from the party last spring have disappeared and I foresee myself returning to the party in the near future."

Mr. Thompson, present when the statement was read, said the Granby resolutions "concern just one province and have no effect on our overall plans or on my position as leader," referring to support of his leadership given by a recent meeting of the party's national council.

The national leader expected other Quebec MPs in addition to those who supported him Monday will join his forces, "some sooner, some later."

Dr. Marcoux said Social Credit will re-organize on the provincial level, "not as a provincial party but as the Quebec section of the national party."

For the moment, the Thompson Quebec group would work as a team and had no plans to elect a leader immediately, a new Quebec wing headquarters would be opened in Montreal.

Mr. Caouette predicted in his keynote speech in Granby Saturday that "reactionary forces trying to make the revolutionary changes we want in the party" would move quickly. He said they would be spearheaded by Dr. Marcoux, Mr. Thompson and Alberta Premier Manning who, he said, had used "undue influence" to get Mr. Thompson elected leader in the 1961 Ottawa leadership convention.

He told the convention he would waste no time in organizing a new national party if the delegates wanted this.

The convention was the first meeting of Le Ralliement since the April 8 election, setback when Quebec Social Credit representation in the Commons dropped to 20 from 26 elected in the June, 1962, election. The party forces were further disrupted when six Quebec Social Credit MPs pledged support to the Pearson government—later withdrawn—and Dr. Marcoux resigned.

WANTS SEPARATISTS

Mr. Caouette said early last week he supported an independent Quebec party aligned with "right wing parties including separatists."

He accused Mr. Thompson's group of being "lukewarm" towards Social Credit principles.

Mr. Thompson publicly struck out at Mr. Caouette for the first time Friday when he said the deputy national leader should resign because of his "irresponsible statements." The national leader said Mr. Caouette no

This special series was specifically designed for high school and early college students to study better, get more out of books and score higher grades.

This is the first of 30 articles that will help you learn that trade so you can cope with your school load more effectively. Even if you feel you know all the tricks already, read these columns anyway. There might be some shortcuts you haven't found.

But before we start discussing specific study techniques, you should develop some basic attitudes and points of view that are indispensable to effective studying.

The first point of view you have to develop works this way: stop and think about your courses—all your courses. What are they getting at? What are you learning in school? Think about it for a minute. Are you learning to reason better? Are you becoming more receptive to ideas? The courses you're taking this year—will they help you think more clearly? (For instance, algebra and Latin.) Will they help you express yourself better? (Any foreign language will help you understand your own.) Will they help you understand the forces that are shaping your world? (For instance, physics, sociology, and history.)

The point is, do you just endure your courses, or do you really try to get something out of them? If you start with the attitude that school is unpleasant, you'll be right—it will be. But if you make an effort to see what your courses can do for you, then school can be a real pleasure.

The next step is to start to develop an approach to each one of your courses in particular.

(NEXT: Why history needn't be boring.)

Nikita Gets Kiss, Snub on Same Day

BELGRADE (Reuters)—An apparently well-pleased Nikita Khrushchev flew home from Yugoslavia today after a farewell kiss from President Josip Tito and a snub by Chinese Communist diplomats.

The Russian premier and Tito twice smilingly embraced and kissed each other on both cheeks before Khrushchev boarded his turbo-jet Ilyushin 18 at the end of two-week working vacation in Yugoslavia.

But two low-ranking Chinese officials turned their backs and looked at the ground when other foreign diplomats crowded around Khrushchev to hear his farewell address.

The Chinese charge d'affaires pointedly did not show up.

Tito, with whom Khrushchev had major policy talks during his stay, headed a strong turnout of Yugoslav leaders who said good-bye to the Russian Communist chief at Belgrade's flag-decked Surcin Airport.

ATMOSPHERE CORDIAL—In a short speech Khrushchev said his exchange of views with Tito on international problems developed in a friendly, fraternal and efficient atmosphere.

He was sure his visit and that which Tito paid to Russia last December would help the cause of socialism and peace.

Tito added that he was very satisfied with the "exhaustive" talks.

Referring to relations between Communist countries and within the international workers movement, Tito said there could be different views about individual questions.

Tito said that in the struggle for socialism it was possible for there to be "different conceptions about individual questions."

"The policy of the socialist forces cannot be built on the dramatization of existing differences or on deviation from the basic needs of our time," the Yugoslav leader said.

He described Khrushchev as a champion of peace and co-existence and an "outstanding leader of the Soviet Union and its glorious Communist party."

"The policy of the socialist forces cannot be built on the dramatization of existing differences or on deviation from the basic needs of our time," the Yugoslav leader said.

Khrushchev's talks with Tito were based mainly on increasing economic ties between the two Communist countries.

He also made a 2,200-mile tour through Yugoslavia that included many opportunities for "family-style" relaxation with Tito.

ALEXANDRA ... 'glad to be alive.'

Greek Princess Out of Coma From Drug Dose

VENICE, Italy (Reuters)—Princess Alexandra of Greece, seriously ill after taking an overdose of drugs regained consciousness during the night and said she felt happy to be alive, a hospital spokesman said today.

The princess, wife of ex-king Peter of Yugoslavia, was taken to a hospital here Sunday in a coma.

Dr. Ignazio Muner, director of the hospital said: "Princess Alexandra regained consciousness during the night. She said she felt happy to be alive, and thanked her doctors."

Doctors said her condition was much better.

Ex-king Peter and their son, Alexander, visited the princess in the hospital this morning.

PLANS VACATION TRIP—The former monarch had earlier announced plans to take Alexandra on a vacation when she recovered.

Peter told reporters here Monday night he had no idea why she took the drugs, and added it was not the result of an unhappy marriage.

The 42-year-old dark-haired princess, a great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria and cousin of Prince Philip, was taken to a hospital Sunday from her mother's villa on an island in the Venice lagoon.

The couple were married in London in 1944 but were estranged for several years during which a divorce was planned.

King Peter was deposed when the Yugoslav Communists seized power after the end of the Nazi occupation in 1945.

FOUR DEAD

Montreal Hunts Arsonist Killer

MONTREAL (CP)—Police said they suspect arson in a two-alarm fire in east-end Montreal Monday in which three members of one family and a 57-year-old woman died.

Police, who recently arrested two suspected firebugs in the district, said they fear another may be loose in the area.

"Only this time we want him for more than setting fires," an officer said. "As far as we're concerned the man is a killer."

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Thibault, aged 34 and 33, and their 10-year-old daughter Micheline and Jeanette Syrie, 57, died in the fire.

Police said the victims all died of asphyxiation. They lived in third-floor adjoining flats.

STARTS IN SHED—The fire broke out at 6:40 a.m. in a rear shed of the building, which houses stores at street level.

Police said the third-floor occupants had only a rear door by which to escape. Mrs. Blanche Riendeau, 86, Miss Syrie's mother, fled through the door, leaving it open.

Air coming through the open door fanned the flames and trapped the victims, police said.

Second-floor residents were able to escape through a front door.

Police Killing Protested—NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Civil Liberties Union says the police killing of Frank Falco appeared to be like "a Ku Klux Klan lynching party."

The group demanded an official investigation.

Falco, indicted in the slaying of two policemen in Lodi, N.J., was asleep and unarmed when police burst into his Manhattan hotel room last Wednesday, police here said.

Police said Falco, 25, put up a fierce fight and was shot when he attempted to gain possession of a detective's gun.

George E. Rundquist, the Civil Liberties Union's executive director, said Monday the shooting appeared to be "an example of police employing standards not unlike a Ku Klux Klan lynching party when they get their hands on a so-called cop-killer."

The two Lodi policemen were shot to death in a tavern where they went to investigate a disturbance.

Rundquist added:

"It is not clear why these police officers found it necessary to shoot Falco. But it has been reported that at least eight bullets were fired into his body by the police."

The Inevitable Parting

THE INEVITABLE SPLIT BETWEEN Mr. Thompson and Mr. Caouette has destroyed any claim that Social Credit may have had to be a national party. The large Quebec tail is in the process of shaking loose from the small Alberta dog; the resultant barking at both ends provides only an echo of a political body that never quite was.

Any new Social Credit Party which Mr. Caouette may try to form will be entirely a Quebec movement, and his recent flirting with separatist elements in that province provides a guarantee, if any were needed, that he would make no headway in any other part of Canada as a national leader.

His net effect, indeed, must only be to embarrass the provincial Social Credit parties led by Mr. Manning and Mr. Bennett. Mr. Manning has already taken a dim view of current Quebec aspirations; obviously, Mr. Caouette would find no support in Edmonton even if he had not destroyed the leadership of Mr. Manning's protégé, Mr. Thompson.

Mr. Bennett, on the other hand, is in the embarrassing position of having supported Mr. Caouette—against Mr. Thompson—in his efforts to become national leader. Now Mr. Caouette may gain the title of leader—but of what?

With Mr. Bennett campaigning provincially on a brave platform of preserving Confederation, Mr. Caouette seems to be cutting himself off from his last western friend. And as the Quebec politician observed astutely on Saturday, he doubts if Mr. Bennett will "need" him in the British Columbia election campaign.

In an effort to increase his support in Quebec—his party strength dropped from 26 seats to 20 in the last federal election and others have since broken away—Mr. Caouette may turn increasingly to Quebec-first policies. This must quickly deprive him of the support he claims in other provinces. He cannot have a national party without a national program and inter-provincial backing. A man aspiring to lead a national party should not be toying with the idea of cutting the nation in two.

Even staunch supporters of Social Credit in the Maritimes and the west could not afford to have dealings with such a faction. On the other hand, Mr. Thompson, with his three faithful western followers—and even taking in a handful of Quebec dissidents—can hardly be viewed as the rallying point for a march on Ottawa.

Although these developments may have their element of humor, Mr. Caouette's future political manoeuvres in Quebec may have more ominous overtones. His talk of a "common front among right wing groups" including separatists, will do little for the real good of Quebec and less for the nation.

More immediately, Social Credit's national dismemberment will pose new problems for Mr. Pearson. On any particular vote, the absence of NDP support for the government against the Conservative opposition would mean that Mr. Pearson must rely on the Social Credit members for a majority. Reeling in the heady fumes of intransigence, Mr. Caouette might be tempted to precipitate a crisis, and even an election, at any time.

The situation, however, raises another interesting speculation. In the new circumstances which now prevail, Mr. Thompson and his Western Threes, augmented by other Social Crediters resentful of Mr. Caouette, might turn out to hold the balance of power.

Buyers Are Sellers Too

AS PROMISED IN THE recent agreement to sell Canadian wheat to Red China, Ottawa has now opened the door a crack to Chinese imports.

A limit of $7 millions per year is set on a group of products in "sensitive" areas, that is, in areas where they would provide direct competition to Canadian goods. This quota, however, even if completely filled, is minuscule in comparison with Canada's exports to Red China. Last year we imported $4.5 millions worth of Communist Chinese goods, but sold that country more than $147 millions worth, mostly grain.

The imposed limitation on imports from China is similar in principle to the "voluntary quotas" placed on goods from Japan. The latter have been a cause of Japanese protest ever since they were imposed, for Canada sells much more to Japan than we buy from her.

Last week a delegation of Japanese businessmen touring Canada pointed out in Calgary that Japan can only buy from Canada with money obtained from export sales. If Canada limits its purchases from Japan, this must eventually limit Japan's purchases from Canada.

Now that the door to Red Chinese imports has been opened a little more—even though with a heavy chain on it—Japan may be expected to renew requests for a wider opportunity to sell here. No doubt will form a major topic at trade talks scheduled for this fall.

As a familiar and valued customer whose future purchases of wheat could vastly increase as the country swings from rice to a bread diet, and which is almost the sole outlet for much of British Columbia's mineral production, Japan has a claim on our markets which should receive full recognition.

Back to School—and Crossings

THE CAREFREE DAYS OF summer ended today for Greater Victoria children who trooped to the schools in their thousands to start the fall term.

For Victoria motorists the event signalled the end of a two-month period when school traffic signs could be safely ignored. A conscious effort must now be made to return to the habit of slowing down in school areas.

Drivers should remind themselves, too, that included in the groups of children going to and from school is the new crop of first-graders who cannot be expected yet to have full realized the dangers of busy streets. Excited, bewildered and abstracted by the new life they are commencing, these youngsters need and deserve the motorists' special care.

Also reappearing on the scene this week are the youngsters of the Kiwanis School Patrols who will be guarding the main traffic crossings. These children voluntarily give up part of their play time to render a valuable service to their schoolmates. They are carefully coached in their duties by experienced police traffic officers and motorists must be aware that ignoring the School Patrol "stop" signal will not only invite the retaliation of the law, but is almost certain to risk the life of a child.

And In the North . . .

IN SHARP CONTRAST TO THE peaceful, prayerful mass civil rights rally in Washington last Wednesday was the vicious demonstration staged two days later in Philadelphia, where hundreds of enraged white people protested the move of a Negro family into their neighborhood.

More than anything else—as television shots of whites, their faces contorted with hatred, and hurling rotten eggs and rocks, showed—the Philadelphia affair demonstrates that the problem of integrating Negroes into the whole community is anything but a problem solely of the Deep South.

For that matter, there have been enough incidents in Canada, notably in Halifax and several Ontario communities, to prove that integration and equal rights for Negroes is not solely a United States problem. Canadians tend to be smug about racial problems, though in the few times they have been tested some have been found to be little different from the racists south of the border.

Most of the spotlight on American integration troubles has been placed on the southern states where the problem is greater through sheer weight of the Negro population. But, as Rev. Martin Luther King reminded the civil rights marchers in Washington last week, the "ghettos of the North" must also be abolished or the fight will only be half won.

"... I appreciate the young gentleman's interest, Pennington, but for a remodelled late 1958 Zippo Side-... we couldn't possibly allow more than $1.35 on a trade-in...!"

A Sense of Caution on the Next Move

WHILE the Senate committees have been examining the test ban treaty, there has been a slow movement of opinion inside NATO in favor of more talks with Russia on the future of Europe.

In general the members of NATO share the same reading of Russian policy. They agree that the men in the Kremlin are thinking along fresh lines; but the reasons for the change are obscure. Cross-currents and hidden reefs may face us on the new course. A sense of caution must therefore guide every Western response to a Soviet proposal—caution, not instinctive suspicion nor blind hostility.

It is not without significance that Great Britain, which has often in the past called for a summit conference, is making no such call now. A meeting at the summit would no doubt give Prime Minister Macmillan a chance to show his gifts on a vast stage. But he knows that all talk of such an early meeting is premature and unwise. This judgment is shared by Mr. Harold Wilson, the leader of the Labor Party.

In France the position is less clear but is by no means discouraging. France stands aloof from the test ban treaty but her isolation does not express her complete policy. President de Gaulle thinks the treaty by itself means very little. But he is committed by his own philosophy to support a larger reconciliation in Europe. In the search for a settlement of old differences there will be an important place for France's knowledge of Europe and genius for diplomacy.

As Dr. Adenauer with solemn hesitation prepares to relinquish his grip on German power, there is a rather unseemly scuffle among the politicians for a high place at the table. This exercise in vainglory is not conducive to patient wisdom.

What has emerged with great clarity is the insistence of the rising leaders in Bonn that West Germany must be consulted, early and frankly, on any development affecting the ultimate unity of Germany or the security of Central Europe. With some other members of NATO the process of consultation will consist essentially in the exchange of information. But consultation with West Germany will mean hard bargaining and anxious moments.

Special Interests

If this German principle is not pressed too harshly, it cannot do very much harm. Quite plainly West Germany has special interests and special anxieties on any matter affecting trade or frontiers, the location of troops or general disarmament.

The change in post-Adenauer Germany will be smaller than many of us allowed ourselves to believe a few months ago. All the same, there will be a change, and no one in Bonn can hope to exercise a veto over any useful initiative by the NATO community.

Among the smaller countries, Belgium and Canada are expected to develop some new ideas and to keep alive, in particular, the importance of disarmament with adequate safeguards. They will also be interested in greater trade between Eastern and Western Europe.

All this amounts to a situation which allows the United States to conduct its careful talks with Russia without any impatient clamor for early or spectacular results. President Kennedy and Mr. Rusk are grateful for this understanding of American objectives and also of the difficulties which must be overcome before the way to peace can be found.

We should remember that it is always possible for Russia to move abruptly towards peace and co-operation, just as Russia can veer without notice to hostility and aggression. Russia's attitude to the League of Nations illustrates this point. Lenin mocked the League as a "thieves' kitchen." Stalin for long years abused it. Then suddenly Russia joined the League of Nations and became an outspoken advocate of collective security.

The reason for the change is plain. Russia was menaced at one and the same time on both fronts, by Nazi Germany in the West and by Imperial Japan in the East. Stalin wanted allies and protection in a hurry. So Russia became a member of the League, and a good member too, regardless of her previous principles. But nothing remotely resembling the situation of 1934 now exists. Hence the hesitation and doubt which greet Russia's announcements of a new spirit, if not yet a new policy.

Until far more evidence is available to permit an emphatic judgment on the motives behind Russian policy, there is everything to be said in support of the cautious initiatives of Mr. Rusk.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

No Pay Grab By MLAs

Following the recent Ottawa salary grab I would advise all voters in the present provincial campaign to ask each candidate whether, if elected, he will seek an indemnity increase.

My experience has shown that in all Canadian elections from Sir John Macdonald onward I can never remember having heard a single word about indemnities breathed in the campaign, but when safely elected up went the pay.

I also observed that invariably, or almost invariably, the increase was seized upon in the first session after an election, no doubt in the hope that by the next general election it would be forgotten, and it was.

I also remember seeing come into the premier's office in Victoria a round robin signed by private members of all parties asking for an increase, which they got. No doubt the circular form was taken so that nobody could see who took the responsibility of being the first signer. Well, now is the time for the electors to get round the round robin by choosing no one who will be dissatisfied with reasonable reward and whose motive is money rather than service.

Personally, if there were a federal election tomorrow I would not vote for one of these grabbers, and these of course include Pearson, Thompson, Douglas and the rest. It is time these fellows were taught a lesson in moderation.

Billboards in the Pass

Active Pass, between Galiano and Mayne Islands, is one of the beauty spots in local waters. Tens of thousands pass through it each year on the ferries and enjoy the scene.

But now there is a large and ugly billboard standing on Indian land on the south shore. The erection of this sign had to be approved by Ottawa. This new billboard is disheartening to those of us who own land in the pass but have sought to protect its beauties by not permitting logging or billboards. If we can pay taxes on income-less wild land, to preserve it for others, one would have expected co-operation from the Ottawa authorities.

Perhaps public annoyance, if expressed to the concern that is advertising or to the member of parliament concerned, can still result in the removal of this ugly sign.

Nuclear Dictatorship?

As a student, I have been taught that Canada is a democratic country. As a young Canadian, I am beginning to wonder what is happening to our democracy.

The results of the last election showed that the majority of the Canadian people are against Liberal policies of nuclear arms for Canada. Yet, in spite of this, it seems that we are to have these suicide (American-controlled) weapons given to us by order in council. Is this Canadian democracy?

The least Mr. Pearson could do is let our elected representatives in Parliament debate the issue. After all, what do we elect these representatives for if not to ensure "will of the majority" rule? Is Canada no longer a democracy? Are we a dictatorship—with Mr. Pearson setting himself up as dictator?

FROM SAIGON:

Abyss Of Chaos

By STANLEY KARNOW

POSTERS bearing a somewhat unfamiliar portrait are being plastered up around Saigon. The peculiarly tormented face belongs to President Ngo Dinh Diem's brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, and its public appearance testifies to the emergence of this new power in South Vietnam.

Though Diem is still nominal head of the country, it is clear that he has transferred much control of the government to his 52-year-old brother.

It was on Nhu's orders that the riot police and special troops cracked down on the Buddhists and other political opponents of the regime. With the country now under martial law, the most powerful military man is Nhu's faithful operative, Colonel Le Quang Tung. Like the ruling Ngo Dinh family, Colonel Tung is a Catholic from Central Vietnam.

Until recently, Nhu was an intellectual recluse who lived with his fiery, outspoken wife and four children in the Presidential palace. He was Diem's "political counselor" and the President's closest adviser.

National Formula

Educated in Paris in the 1930s, Nhu returned to Vietnam when the country was still a French colony and became a minor political agitator against both the French and the Communists. He formed a Catholic trade union that later gave its meagre political support to Diem. At the same time, Nhu invented the ideology of "personalism," a complex and rather incomprehensible combination of Confucianism and Catholic Existentialism that was to become the "national formula" of the regime.

When Diem became President in 1955, Nhu organized the clandestine Cao Lao movement, a network of secret agents and informers who spied on citizens and transmitted his orders to the Administration and the Army. Members of this apparatus actually outranked their apparent superiors, and gave South Vietnam the look of an "anti-Communist People's Democracy."

Nhu astutely recognized that the recent Buddhist protest was not merely a religious problem, but had fast become the focus of many political and other grievances against the government. He realized that the wave of protest was logically aimed at overthrowing the regime.

As an alternative, Nhu carefully prepared loyal police and army commanders to make sweeping arrests of the Buddhists. He bided his time until after U.S. Ambassador Frederick Nolting had left the country and before Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge had arrived.

On the pretext of military movements, several army units were moved into the Saigon area. Armoured troop carriers, allegedly going from Central Vietnam to the South, were, for example, shunted into the capital and kept there. Colonel Tung's special forces units were reinforced, ostensibly to protect the President.

Took Precautions

Even after the crackdown on the Buddhists, Nhu took particular diplomatic precautions. He called a group of army generals into his offices, and, according to reliable sources, forced them to sign a fake document intending to show that the repression against the Buddhists was demanded by the military. The aim of this manoeuvre was to convince the United States that the assault was dictated by the Army.

How long Nhu can hold on to his newly acquired power is a major question. He and his wife are widely disliked and it is now considered only a matter of time before disgruntled army officers organise action against them.

If Nhu's units fight the army opposition, Vietnam may find itself involved in a civil war within a civil war. And it will be chaos from which only the Communists can benefit.

They Missed The Boat

Montreal Gazette

THE dispute between rival unions over jurisdiction at the Place des Arts has resulted in cancellation of the grand opening festival.

This cancellation or postponement would have been regrettable under any circumstances. But it is especially unfortunate that this may reflect upon the reputation of Montreal. For this grand opening would, in effect, have marked Montreal's attempt to move into the front rank of the great cultural centres of North America, a place from which it has too long been absent.

That this opening has resulted in cancellation, or at best postponement, may diminish interest in Montreal's plans. An impression, even though undesired, may spread that the city has too narrow an attitude, unsuited to the flourishing of cultural greatness. For, it may be said, under no other circumstances would the cancellation of the important official opening have been likely to happen.

There may be much to be said for both sides in the union dispute over Place des Arts. A solution may be very difficult to find. Yet the Place des Arts is meant to serve a cultural purpose. In the light of this purpose, as symbolized by the official opening, all those involved might well have felt that a higher interest than the boundary lines of jurisdiction required that a solution be found in time.

MARKED for READING NEW OWNER

I recall that once I said that the interpreter is a little bit like Jesus when he went to Lazarus. Lazarus was lying in the tomb and Jesus said, "Stand up and walk." And from that moment Lazarus belonged more to Jesus than to his own parents. So it is that the interpreter goes to music which lies in the score and tells it, "Stand up and live." From that moment the music belongs as much to the interpreter as to the composer. The music is the interpreter's own brother.

...REPORTING

OTTAWA—One thing we fear the Royal Commission on Biculturalism will miss, unless we draw it to the attention of the honorable commissioners, is that in this country we have two truly outstanding examples of the blending of different cultures.

And so we respectfully suggest that the royal investigators investigate the finished products of Canadian biculturalism: the Indians and the Eskimos.

In the case of each group, the culture of the white man was superimposed on the native culture, and the result is too well known to require elaboration here.

It is, of course, the intention of our official biculturalizers to blend the best of the French-Canadian and English-Canadian cultures to produce a superior Canadian culture that will withstand the impact of anything the Americans can throw at us.

Hooray for our side. I've already selected the site for my igloo, with a pole for flying that still to be picked non-Union Jack Canadian flag.

It's distinctly non-U in Ottawa these days to fail to beat the drums for biculturalism. But no one I've talked to can tell me just what it means, or in practical terms just what the effects will be, aside from placating the French-Canadians with an official program to teach French to federal civil servants, and by answering government telephones in French.

The reason may be that biculturalism in practice will be anything the French-Canadians want it to be; within the limits of what the English-Canadians will allow it to be.

Neither side has yet had its final word on this. The French-Canadians have been specific on only one point: that they want to be able to go, live and work anywhere in Canada and feel at home in the French language.

Well, now...

It's hard to write about bilingualism without a feeling that it all verges on the ridiculous. The purpose of language is communication—not the revision of military events two centuries ago and political events one century ago. If Canadians need to learn French or English to communicate, they will do so.

What infuriates Quebecers is that so far they have had to do practically all of the learning. Finally their Gallic pride and sensitivity has caused them to rebel against a continuation of this state of affairs.

We have to continue to communicate with Quebec, or else, pack it up in this country. If Quebec refuses to communicate in English, we will then need French: once more Mahomet to the mountain.

The threat of Quebec's secession and the likelihood of complete breakup of the Canadian confederacy as a sequel underlie the whole problem. Nobody in a position of authority has said Quebec can secede, yet nobody has said it can't.

If this is "one nation indivisible" like the American Union, that needs to be said. But that is exactly the wrong message from a prime minister who holds office on the strength of Quebec votes.

"Prime Minister Pearson probably went as far as he will when he said in a Montreal speech that neither French-Canada nor English-Canada can survive without the other."

The fear must haunt Mr. Pearson that, in paraphrase of the sonorous Churchillian declaration, he was chosen as the Queen's first minister to oversee the dissolution of her Canadian dominion.

Beating the Bugs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—One of the major tasks confronting mankind is finding a means of doing away with insects without upsetting Rachel Carson.

In her book "Silent Spring," Miss Carson put her foot down regarding the use of chemical pesticides. This brought forth suggestions that she should try putting her foot down on a few bugs.

It was generally agreed, however, that her point about pesticides upsetting the balance of nature was well taken.

As one who has been feeling a little unbalanced myself, I am pleased to observe that Miss Carson's message has begun to make itself felt.

At Gainesville, Fla., this week, the U.S. department of agriculture is dedicating a new insect research laboratory to the pursuit of better methods of controlling pests.

Among other things, the lab will study various biological measures, such as insect birth control.

I don't have the program for the dedication ceremony, but I think it would be appropriate if they invited Miss Carson to throw out the first cockroach, or something like that.

In addition to this project, a team of department scientists at Beltsville, Md., has started a search for new physical methods of controlling four types of flies.

They are investigating the merits of light rays, sound waves, air currents and geometric patterns as weapons against these pests. No results from Beltsville are expected for a long time yet, but there is good news from the agricultural research service at Corvallis, Ore.

Scientists there have discovered that female houseflies apparently use some sort of perfume to attract male flies.

Proof of the role that scent plays in the romance of a housefly was obtained with a device called an olfactometer. The scientists put some male flies in one chamber and then put some females in another chamber where the fellows couldn't see them.

Despite the absence of sight or sound to lure them, a significant number of the males wound up in the chamber with the females. It is assumed, therefore, that the perfume got 'em.

According to the agriculture department, the Corvallis experiment holds promise of developing into something big in the way of fly control. I would not care to speculate just how.

Three Flower Shows Saturday

There are three flower shows to be held on Saturday of this week in widely separated communities of the Victoria area.

September 7 is the date chosen for the annual shows by the following organizations: View Royal Garden Club, in the View Royal Community Hall on the Island Highway at the top of Four Mile Hill; Gordon Head Garden Club at the Gordon Head Community Hall on Tyndall Avenue, off Feltham Rd.; and the Men's Club (A.O.T.S.) of the Centennial United Church in their gymnasium on David St., off Gorge Rd.

Many gardeners will spend the afternoon and evening visiting all the three shows, and will find interest in comparing the entries made in the various classes.

The View Royal Club has an extensive list of vegetables, specifying nine classes for various kinds of squashes, including marrows. Such a display would be of great value to someone who likes this vegetable but is not sure of the names of the different varieties.

Both of these shows will have a junior section for boys and girls 12 years and under and 16 years and under. This is a fine project for children of all ages, and can keep them occupied outdoors for a few hours a week from early spring until fall at least.

These two shows open at 2 p.m. on Saturday and close at 9 p.m. with the presentation of prizes.

Last year the Men's Club (A.O.T.S.) of the Centennial United Church staged their first Horticultural Exhibition in the new church gymnasium and it was so successful that they have made an even greater effort this year.

Their schedule and prize list is the first one to come to our notice which has the vegetable and fruit classes listed before the flowers and decorative arrangement sections. One can almost see the men's chief interests here!

This particular show is opening at 1 p.m. and it will close at 6 p.m. Afternoon tea will be served, included in the price of admission.

NHU POWER BEHIND THE THRONE

Many-Faceted Personality Mark of S. Viet Nam Boss

By ROY ESSOYAN

SAIGON (AP)—Ngo Dinh Nhu, the man behind the throne in South Viet Nam, lamented recently that "if anybody's oppressed in this country, it's the government."

A month later, Nhu persuaded his brother, President Ngo Dinh Diem, to declare martial law while Nhu personally ordered troops and his own security police to storm pagodas and break the back of a Buddhist opposition movement that threatened the family regime.

In the wake of this crack-down two weeks ago, Nhu emerged as possibly the most powerful and most hated figure in South Viet Nam. He has dominated his brother Diem since their youth, although Diem at 62 is 10 years his senior.

Nhu likes to tell visitors that he is a much misunderstood man. His is a many-faceted personality—mild-mannered, soft-spoken and tough.

Discussing the danger of a possible attempt to overthrow the government, Nhu told a group of military leaders last month there were only two ways of handling a coup—"you smash it like an egg before it is hatched or you join it and exploit it."

Nhu is violently anti-Communist. He has said the only solution for the Communist China problem is to atom-bomb Peking.

But an American who has known him for years says Nhu is captivated by Communist techniques and successes.

Nhu has a great regard for U.S. industrial and mechanical ingenuity. But he makes no secret of his contempt for American democratic and political processes.

Americans, Nhu says, are naive. They are "intoxicated"—a favorite phrase of his—and misinformed by the press. He says Americans don't understand Asians or Communists.

Nhu is reported to have said he would make a deal with his country's arch enemy, Communist North Viet Nam, before he would bow to U.S. pressure. He has repeatedly indicated he has contacts with North Viet Nam.

WOULD RAZE SAIGON

When a coup appeared threatening last month, Nhu was reported to have said he would order Saigon razed if any attempt were made to overthrow his family's regime.

An American who knows Nhu well says: "He is extremely intelligent, even brilliant, but he shows symptoms of irrationality."

Nhu's pet subject is "personalism," a bewildering mixture of Roman Catholicism, Buddhism and French existentialism. He says American poet Walt Whitman expressed the basic principle of "personalism" in the phrase, "the soaring freedom of the soul."

And Nhu says "personalism" is his basic formula for government.

'HE WON'T BUDGE'

A well-placed Vietnamese put it this way:

"Nhu brooded and brooded for years in relative isolation to develop this philosophy. Now he has it, he won't budge. The facts must be made to fit the philosophy."

Nhu heads the secret police and runs the revolutionary Labor party, a network of informers and a 1,900,000-strong military type organization called the Republican Youth Movement.

He is the founder and director of the effective strategic hamlets program, which he describes as an "anti-guerrilla movement" of military protected villages.

But by far the most important job Nhu holds is the innocent

MUST SERVE CLIENTS WITH LIMITED MEANS

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—Canadian lawyers were urged today to play a dominant role in hearings of the royal commission on biculturalism and bilingualism.

R. A. MacKimmie of Calgary, retiring president of the Canadian Bar Association, said lawyers "should make themselves available to groups for preparation and presentation of their views on the very important issues being examined."

He told 1,500 lawyers at the opening session of the 45th annual meeting of the CBA in this resort town:

"The minority groups in Canada should be able to rely on lawyers more than any other group of citizens for support of, and to champion, any legitimate cause they may have."

Lawyers should actively participate in the preservation of the rights of minorities and realize it is one of the responsibilities we assume on becoming lawyers."

It is part of the job of being good citizens for "we are required to assume responsibilities of citizenship well beyond the basic requirements."

"We are the profession to which society has entrusted the administration of the law and the dispensing of justice."

"If the citizen lawyer and citizen judge fail to earn that degree of respect which leads to respect for the law itself, we have failed in our most basic responsibility."

"The public image of the lawyer is so necessary in our society that it cannot be achieved by pure professional competence alone. We must serve clients with limited means... as members of municipal, provincial or federal legislative bodies... and the nation's business and commercial communities."

Canadian, U.S. Lumbermen Plan Sales Program

Canadian and U.S. lumber manufacturers have formulated a program to increase the sales of the products of their respective industries.

Gordon T. Lough of Edmonton, president of the Canadian Wood Development Council, announced that top representatives of the Canadian and U.S. lumber industries, meeting at Cottage Grove, Oregon, made plans for a stronger merchandising and promotion program, supported by Canadian and U.S. lumber industries, and aimed at expanding the total market for North American lumber and wood products.

TODAY'S GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Most prices moved narrowly in somewhat dull trading near the close today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Flax was an exception, showing irregularity and occasional weakness.

Export interest was on the quiet side, but there was evidence of a small shipping demand in oats and sales to the continent were reported. Barley also uncovered some shipping support. Maltsters and processors were interested.

Trade Surplus $138 Million In 7 Months

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has rolled up a $138-million trade surplus in the first seven months of this year—a sharp improvement from the $131,600,000 trading deficit in the corresponding period of last year.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today that exports for January-July were 7.5 per cent to $3,811,500,000 while imports declined a marginal one-tenth of one per cent to $3,703,300,000.

Some of the figures in the report do not jibe with others because totals are rounded to the nearest hundred thousand dollar mark.

Export gains were recorded in all major markets, with the sharpest increases in sales to Britain and Commonwealth countries. Seven-month sales to the United States were up 4.4 per cent.

The month of July produced a $20,600,000 trade surplus compared to a $2,200,000 surplus a year earlier. Exports were 8.2 per cent higher at $607,400,000 while imports rose five per cent to $585,800,000.

INDICATES SURPLUS

Since there is normally a trade surplus in the last half of the year, today's report indicated that Canada likely will end 1963 with its third trade surplus in a row and the best trade picture in at least a decade. Last year there was a $82,000,000 trade surplus and $196 million surplus following eight years of trade deficits.

Exports in the January-July period were up 4.4 per cent to the United States, 15.1 per cent to Britain, 27.4 per cent to other Commonwealth countries and 6.4 per cent to all other countries.

January-July imports showed declines of 0.8 per cent from the U.S. and 12.4 per cent from Britain, and increases of 12.8 per cent from other Commonwealth countries and 6.3 per cent from all others.

The trade picture for the January-July periods of 1963 and 1962 in millions of dollars:

12 SORDID YEARS

Turncoat Briton Dies in Russia

MOSCOW — Guy Burgess, the British diplomat who fled London to escape spy charges, died Friday after 12 sordid and lonely years in Russia. Burgess, 52, died in his sleep of heart disease in the public ward of the hospital. Donald Maclean, the foreign office official who escaped to Russia with Burgess in 1951, broke the news to Burgess' mother in London by telephone.

He said Sunday night the Russian foreign ministry would grant Burgess' mother, Mrs. Eve Bassett, an immediate visa to travel to Moscow for the funeral. Maclean said he supposed the funeral date depends on the wishes of his mother.

There was speculation Burgess was visited often after he entered the hospital Aug. 20 by Harold (Kim) Philby, another ex-diplomat and journalist who defected to Russia earlier this year.

WARNED BURGESS
Philby was named by Britain as the "third man" who warned Burgess and Maclean British security men were on their trail before they disappeared.

At the time the pair defected Maclean was head of the American department at the foreign office while Burgess was a second secretary in the junior branch of the foreign service.

Two middle-aged Soviet women doctors who treated Burgess for 10 days up to his death said he died in his sleep in a special ward for heart cases.

The doctors said he had a "bad case" of hardening of the arteries. They added they were "shocked" by his condition.

Burgess had been ill for several years. Heavy drinking and smoking did not help his heart condition and he frequently took rest cures for both his heart and stomach. He died in increasing loneliness.

MacEachen Asks Seamen To Co-operate

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister MacEachen has called on Canada's sailors, engineers and deck officers to co-operate in a cleanup of waterfront labor lawlessness.

Mr. MacEachen referred, in his first Labor Day message, to the Great Lakes labor dispute and to the government's decision to impose a trusteeship over five maritime transportation unions including the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind).

President Claude Jodoin of the Canadian Labor Congress, in his annual message, said organized labor wants to co-operate with government and management but, in doing so, won't abandon its fight for higher wages, better working conditions and advanced social benefits.

He said "some limited progress" has been made in improving relations.

Ottawa Authorizes Northern Hydro Plan

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—A hydro power plant costing some $9,120,000 has been authorized by the federal government to provide power for the developing lead and zinc mine on the south shore of Great Slave Lake, it was announced Monday. It will also supply power to Fort Smith, N.W.T.

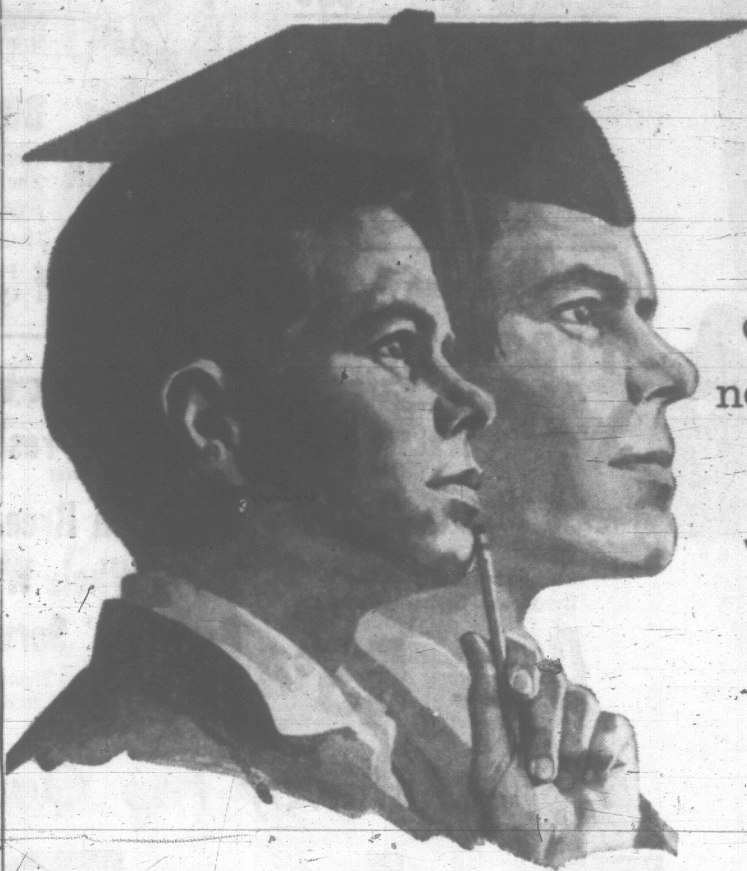

Northern Affairs Minister Arthur Laing said Northern Canada Power Commission, a Crown corporation, will handle a project involving a 175-mile transmission line to carry the power from the generating site at the Twin Gorges on the Taltson River to Pine Point where the huge lead-zinc deposits are located.

A rail link from Alberta was begun two years ago to the deposit and is scheduled to be completed next year. A long-term contract is expected to be signed shortly between the Crown company and the mining firm, a subsidiary of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company which in turn is owned by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The project will mean substantial power-rate reductions for the residents of Fort Smith, peopled mainly by northern civil servants, Mr. Laing said. Completion of construction is scheduled for the late fall of 1965.

BANK OF MONTREAL UNIVERSITY EDUCATION PROGRAMME

A comprehensive, life-insured plan for financing a college education for boys and girls now in high school

If you are like most parents with children in high school, you are probably wondering how you are going to meet the costs of financing your youngster's college education. To help parents solve this problem, the Bank of Montreal has introduced its University Education Programme—the first life-insured plan of its kind in Canada.

Under this comprehensive programme, parents, guardians and sponsors of high-school students can spread the cost of a university education over periods of up to nine years, thus keeping monthly payments to amounts they can afford without hardship. And the cost to the parent is only a fraction of the interest paid on a straight loan programme.

HOW THE PROGRAMME WORKS
Under the basic plan, the parent agrees to make monthly payments to the Bank starting, say, two years before the student enters university, and terminating one year after graduation. In return, the parent receives an annual sum from the Bank at the start of each of the four university years.

VARIANTS OF THE PLAN
Several optional plans are available under the programme, and these vary as to the number of years in which the parent wishes to make monthly payments, as well as to the amount required annually for university expenses. Plans are based on objectives ranging from $1,000 to $8,000 payable to the parent in four annual instalments.

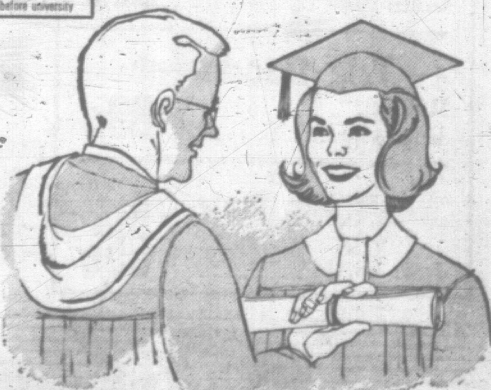

Here is an example of how one of the basic plans can be varied to suit your needs:

OBJECTIVE: $4,000
To be paid to the parent in four annual amounts of $1,000 each
OPTIONS	YOU PAY MONTHLY	PERIODS OF PAYMENT	YOUR PAYMENTS BEGIN
Plan A	$49.55	7 years	2 years before university
Plan B	42.78	8 years	3 years before university
Plan C	37.56	9 years	4 years before university

LIFE-INSURANCE FEATURE
If the parent concerned should die after the start of the programme, the funds for education specified in the agreement will be advanced by the Bank each year without any further payments being made by the family or the estate.

HOW TO JOIN THE PROGRAMME
See the people at your neighbourhood B of M branch. You will receive a warm welcome from a staff who will be pleased to give you further details and to help you select a plan suited to your needs. Ask for your copy of the Bank of Montreal University Education Programme folder.

P.S. If you need help in financing a student already in University—or planning to register this year—talk to your B of M Manager. Chances are he can arrange a tuition loan with extended payments adapted to your circumstances.

AVON'S BOY LAYS GOLDEN EGG FOR HATCHERY MAN

VANCOUVER (CP)—Avon's Boy, a bargain colt bought for $1,000 by a chicken hatchery owner, breezed to victory Monday in the $5,000 added Graduation Stakes at Exhibition Park.

Avon's Boy broke 10th in the 12-horse field in the featured seventh race and came on with a rush in the stretch to win.

Art Krieger bought the horse at a yearling sale last fall. With the Graduation victory behind him, Avon's Boy has earned more than $6,000.

A crowd of 15,098, wagering a record $379,508, saw Miss Tish take place money, followed by Frannie.

Modern Girl, a young mare that thrives on mileage, showed her heels in the eighth race, a rare two miler. Modern Girl scored her first victory in 11 starts in 3:33 3/5. (Complete results, page 11.)

WIN B.C. TITLE

Junior Rocks Pick Up Trio

By ERNIE FEDORUK

Victoria's junior Shamrocks will be bolstered by three players from the team they defeated in the B.C. final when the Irish set out to defend their Canadian lacrosse championship at Brampton, Ont., next week.

Shamrocks, who defeated Brampton 4-2 in last year's Minto Cup series at Memorial Arena, are scheduled to leave Friday afternoon for the Ontario centre. This year's best-of-seven playoff starts next Monday.

Manager Mac McNeill said Monday that Victoria will be bolstered by forward Dick Crompton and defencemen Bill Robinson and Mike Ramberg of South Vancouver Legion. In addition, Gord Liebscher of Vancouver Vindex also is being sought as a replacement.

Shamrocks, who defeated Legion 10-8 in overtime Sunday to win their best-of-five B.C. title series 3-2, are expected to be granted permission today to use a quartet as replacements for four regulars who will be unable to make the trip east.

FOUR CAN'T TRAVEL

The four are Dave Collett, Glenn Vickers, Mike Woodley and Rod Nesbitt. Collett is due to enter hospital this week for an operation on his knee; Woodley has left for Saskatchewan to fulfil a hockey commitment while Nesbitt and Vickers are unable to travel because of school. Both are enrolling at Victoria University.

Vickers and Collett both will be missed by the Shamrocks. Both have been key men in a Victoria power play that terrorized junior opposition this year.

Collett and Vickers both scored twice Sunday to figure prominently in the Rocks' dramatic overtime victory before about 500 fans at Memorial Arena.

PAYOFF PRODUCER

But it was two goals by Bill Munroe, Shamrocks' greatest payoff producer all season long, that pulled out Sunday's win. Munroe, held scoreless in regulation time, scored twice on fine individual sorties to snap an 8-8 tie and start Shamrocks on their way to Brampton.

Shamrocks, down 3-0 after the first two minutes of play, led 8-7 with two minutes to play. Frederickson, Legion's top scorer during regular league play, tied it 8-8 at 13:04 and sent the well-matched finalists into overtime.

Munroe scored his first goal at 5:50 of the extra 10-minute session and added the clincher at 7:13.

Munroe assisted on three earlier goals for a five-point performance to spark the Shamrocks. Nirmal Dillon also counted two goals while singles went to Ranjit Dillon and Rod Kilduff.

GOALIES SPARKLED

Crompton, with two, Ramberg, Robinson, Andy Danyliuk, Frederickson, Dennis Deslauriers and Kirby Carter were Vancouver's marksmen.

Both goalies stood out during the contest. Vancouver's Jim Serr made 35 stops during the hectic but cleanly-played game while rival Bob Fisher blocked 30.

Fisher saved his best stops for the overtime, making three fine saves in the first four minutes.

VICTORIA MACS BOPPED IN SOFTBALL PLAYOFF

VANCOUVER—Victoria McLarens were eliminated from the B.C. senior "B" men's softball championships in the final game Monday, being beaten by Vancouver Eldorados 4-0.

Vancouver handed Victoria a 3-2 defeat in the quarter-final round earlier in the day to earn a berth in the final game.

Victoria then beat Prince George in a loser's game to decide who would meet Vancouver for the championship.

City Driver Wins Ninth Straight Before 5,000

By RON SUDLOW

Local leadfoot Billy Foster captured his fourth Canadian American Modified Racing Association trophy of the week-end by winning the Daffodil Cup Monday night at Western Speedway.

Foster won CAMRA races Friday and Saturday night in Nanaimo and Victoria and clinched his weekend by taking the individual drivers' championship.

The 150-lap Daffodil grind was his ninth straight triumph on the CAMRA loop and his second consecutive victory in the Labor Day classic.

In addition, Foster lowered the record for the fourth-length of a mile Langford oval to 17.15 seconds in Sunday's time trials.

NEVER MATERIALIZED

Most of the 5,000 fans were looking for a duel between Foster and Bill Crow of Boise, Idaho, for the CAMRA driving championship.

Foster trailed Crow by 67 points going into Friday's race in Nanaimo, cut the margin to 19 prior to the start of the Daffodil event.

The duel didn't last very long as Crow was forced out on his 34th lap because of a broken rotor button worth about 50 cents on his distributor.

IMPORTANT POINTS

Foster gained one point on him each time he passed Crow's vehicle, parked at the side of the backstretch.

Al Smith, also of Victoria, jumped into an early lead from 19th spot in the reverse start.

Foster was fifth at that point and was chasing Smith by the 13th lap.

However, twisted brake drums on Smith's rear wheels were red hot causing his clutch to gradually give out and Foster gunned into the lead on the 30th lap.

FINISHED ON 41st

Smith finally surrendered second place to Jim Malloy of Denver on the 41st lap and was finished for the evening.

Malloy held second for the remainder of the race but was lapped by Foster on the 57th lap and eventually finished about three-quarters of a mile behind.

George Robertson of Lewiston, Idaho, and Jim Roberts of Eugene, Oregon, placed third and fourth, respectively.

Foster said at the end of the race he is "undecided".

BILLY FOSTER ... 'go, man, go' whether to remain driving in CAMRA events next year or look for new worlds to conquer on the U.S. big car circuit.

FAST INTO CORNERS

He will be driving his car, powered by a 333-cubic-inch Chevrolet engine with six carburetors, Sunday at the Portland "200" which he won last year.

In Saturday's 50-lap Challenge Cup event both Foster and Smith lapped Crow as Foster won by half a lap.

The key to Foster's wins seems to be his ability to enter corners at full throttle while other drivers choose to back off about 100 yards before the turn.

Another Victoria driver, Bill Boden, showed up well in preliminary races Monday night in a stock car by defeating modified sportsmen and other stock cars in the second heat and a 20-lap "B" main event.

'OH... NO!' SAYS SERR

Gesture of anguish is offered by South Vancouver goalie Jim Serr after shot by Shamrocks' Bill Munroe beat him in overtime. It turned out to be winner as Victoria marked up 10-8 decision to win B.C. junior lacrosse title and berth in Minto Cup series which starts next Monday at Brampton, Ont.

STAMPS NIP ESKS

Roughies Ride Over Winnipeg

(By the Canadian Press)

Winnipeg Blue Bombers' big problem might not be defending their Grey Cup successfully—but, rather, getting into the post-season classic without buying tickets.

The team that has represented the West five times in the past six years in the Canadian Football League final is having its problems.

Six games have gone by and the once-mighty Bombers, best of all the football teams last year, have only a 3-3 record. Saskatchewan Roughriders clipped the champs 15-9 Monday afternoon in one half of the Western Conference's Labor Day doubleheader.

Calgary Stampeders dumped the last-place Edmonton Eskimos 13-11 in the other game. The win pushed the powerful Stamps into first place, two points ahead of the idle British Columbia Lions, with a 5-1 record.

"It was a hot day and our boys were tired," said Winnipeg coach Bud Grant. "The Riders were rested and it showed—their backs were just prancing out there."

SCORES TWO TD'S

The Riders, however, who piled up 22 first downs on 280 yards rushing and 46 yards passing, struck twice with hard-plunging rookie fullback George Reed accounting for both touchdowns.

Jerry Jones scored the lone Winnipeg touchdown, George Fleming kicked a convert and a single, and Jack Dawkins booted a single.

Delvaux was one bright spot for the Bombers. He gave one of the season's greatest kicking displays, averaging 61.4 yards on seven kicks.

The Bomber offence, though, was ineffective. They made only 90 yards rushing and 125 in the air.

Halfback Bill Gray was another Roughrider standout, picking up 90 yards on 20 carries in addition to snaring three passes from quarterback Ron Lancaster.

Larry Robinson was a kicking hero for Calgary with two field goals and a convert. The lone touchdown was scored by Lovell Coleman, who is tied for the league scoring lead with Nub Beamer of B.C.

Tommy-Joe Coffey took a touchdown pass for the fired-up Eskimos, Bill Mitchell kicked a field goal and a convert and Bobby Walden booted a single.

The Stamps had their hands full with the pesky Eskis and found themselves out-rushed and out-passed. Only a stout defence kept the Stamps out of front.

Tom Maudlin, picked up recently from Toronto Argonauts, made his debut with Edmonton. And he looked right at home—passing, carrying the ball and handling it.

Jerry Keeling's interception at midfield paved the way to the lone Calgary touchdown. Eagle Day clicked with his throwing arm on a series and Coleman finished it off with a plunge from the one-yard line.

ALL OVER TOWN

Steed Was Just Dyin' To Travel

CLEVELAND (AP)—Seswood Boy, a three-year-old colt entered in a 6 1/2-furlong race at Randall Park Saturday, wound up going three miles—through city traffic.

The horse, a 10-1 longshot, threw jockey Joe Lopez coming out of the starting gate and followed the rest of the field for about one-quarter of the race. Then he sped through an open gate at the side of the track.

About 20 persons—security police and trainers—chased the horse on heavily-travelled streets before his owner and two stable boys corralled it in the driveway of an apartment building.

No time was taken for the three miles.

Kelso Captures Aqueduct Stakes

By Associated Press

Kelso is winning horse races so easily he could replace Round Table as the leading money winning horse in the world.

The six-year-old gelding won the 13th $100,000 race of his career Monday, a 5 1/2-length victory over Crimson King Farm's Crimson Saton in the $110,600 Aqueduct Stakes at 1 1/4 miles.

The crowd of 71,675 was the largest in New York racing history.

Ferguson First In Cycle Race

VANCOUVER (CP)—Jack Ferguson of the Vancouver Bicycle Club Monday streaked into the Pacific National Exhibition grounds for his second straight victory in the Tour of B.C. bicycle race.

Ferguson's time for the 226 miles from Penitence to Vancouver was 12 hours, 32 minutes, 36 seconds, just 10 seconds ahead of second and third-place finishers Flavio Todesco and Rob Way, who came in half a bike length apart.

GreenTree Stable's The Axe II, carrying top weight of 127 pounds at Chicago, scored a head victory in the Lindheimer Handicap at Arlington Park. It was the sixth victory in nine starts this year for The Axe.

The Linheimer was 1 1/4 miles.

At Atlantic City, Foxcatcher Farm's Gay Serenade bowed out John Schiff's Goofed before a crowd of 28,590 in the $30,900 Pageant Handicap for three-year-old fillies. Eric Guerrier rode Gay Serenade, who returned $28.

At Del Mar, Mr. Consistency won a head victory over Rapido in the $30,000 Del Mar Handicap as favored Native Diver ran out. Mr. Consistency paid $21.20, $7 and $4.60.

LONDON WANTS TO SPAR ...

How to Live Dangerously ...

LONDON (AP)—Brian London, formerly British heavyweight boxing champion, took his life in his hands Monday and interrupted world champion Sonny Liston at lunch. He also offered to spar with him.

It happened at a press reception for Liston, in England to show his muscles and punches in a series of exhibitions.

Liston announced on his arrival Saturday that he had brought his own sparring partners because there were none worthy or willing in England. Suddenly Monday, as Liston was in the middle of his chicken, in stride London.

The 30-year-old British boxer went to the head table, where he was introduced to Jack Nilon.

Marriott Makes Alouettes Roar

(By the Canadian Press)

If Montreal Alouettes miss Sandy Stephens, it is the best-kept secret in the Eastern Football Conference.

The Alouettes, who floundered twice with Stephens, are bouncing along with Bubba Marriott—the man who took over when quarterback Stephens was suspended recently for being over-weight.

The pre-season favorites looked like the team they were supposed to be Monday as they rolled to a 37-15 win over Ottawa Rough Riders and second place in the standings.

In the second game of the EFC's Labor Day program, Hamilton Tiger-Cats protected their lead by turning a last-quarter interception into a touchdown in a 7-1 win over Toronto Argonauts.

After the holiday action, the Ticats were on top with a 3-2 record, Montreal was 2-2, Ottawa 1-3 and Toronto 1-4.

Marriott, who now has guided the Als to two wins in succession, seems to have the powerful Montreal backfield functioning.

DIXON BACK IN FORM

George Dixon, the man who won everything last season in the East, regained his form Monday as he rushed for 234 yards while the entire Ottawa team managed only 79.

Dixon set two records; he scored a 108-yard touchdown from scrimmage, longest ever in the East, and smashed the club's rushing record formerly held by Pat Abuzzi.

Don Clark, second-half of the feared one-two punch, scored two touchdowns for the Als, and rookie Dave Hoppmann added another. Bobby Jack Oliver kicked three field goals—from 27, 14 and 40 yards—and added three converts.

Gene Gaines, who ran 36 yards after intercepting a Marriott pass, scored an Ottawa touchdown and halfback Ron Stewart also crossed the line. Tackle Moe Racine converted both and rookie Riek-Black booted a single.

The Argos point, a single off a field goal attempt by Don Fuell late in the first quarter, held up until the final quarter. Garney Henley intercepted a Toronto pass and ran 59 yards before being knocked out of bounds on the Toronto three-yard line in the final quarter.

Jamie Caley took one rush, gained a yard then crashed over from the two for the touchdown. Dave Vitt kicked the convert.

(UP-International)
Sandy's still a dandy, and now the Dodgers are hitting, too.

That classy combination—very much in evidence on the Labor Day holiday as the Dodgers swept a twin bill from Houston, 7-3 and 7-1, and bagged 20 hits plus Koufax' 21st victory as they went along—could mean that it's all over but the shouting in the National League pennant race.

Even though second-place St. Louis Cardinals kept pace with a doubleheader sweep of their own, 6-1 and 6-2 over Pittsburgh, the Dodgers retained a six-game lead with only 25 to go.

And Los Angeles certainly showed no signs of folding as Koufax fanned 13 batters in the opening game to close in on his own NL record of 269 for a season. He stands at 259 and the way he's going, could break the record the next time out. His 21 wins are tops in the majors.

An equally important number was those 20 hits rattled out by the long-quiet Los Angeles bats. In the opener, Tommy Davis, Frank Howard, and Jim Gilliam lashed doubles and Willie Davis and John Roseboro tripled, and in the nightcap Roseboro homered and doubled.

While the Dodgers' Cards rolled on, the staggering Giants dropped two games to Chicago, 7-5 and 6-0, and practically disappeared from the pennant race, 2½ games behind. Cub Dick Ellisworth won his 20th. The Phillies beat the Braves, 6-4, while the Mets beat the Reds, 5-3, and then lost to Jim Mangrum's 20th victory, 1-0.

Even manager Ralph Houk should be ready to admit now that New York Yankees have tucked away their 14th American League pennant in 17 years.

If Houk needs any coaxing, this little bit of intelligence should convince him.

TRENDING BULGE
The Yankees cake-walked past the Labor Day milestone with a 12-game lead—their biggest bulge at this stage of the race in 22 years.

Whitey Ford, who figures to be Houk's opening game pitcher for the series again this year, became the AL's first 20-game winner of the season when the Yankees turned back Detroit Tigers, 5-4 in the opener of their holiday doubleheader.

The Tigers bounced back to win the nightcap, 2-1, behind Hank Aguirre, but what did that matter to the Yankees? Their nearest "pursuers," Chicago White Sox, also settled for a split against Los Angeles Angels—pulling out an 8-7 victory after losing the opener 7-5.

Cleveland Indians blasted Washington Senators, 4-3, and then dropped an 8-7 verdict; Boston Red Sox turned back Baltimore Orioles twice, 4-3 and 2-0, and Minnesota Twins won a pair from Kansas City Athletics, 6-2 and 3-1.

Cookie Gets OK to Play
BUFFALO (AP)—Buffalo fullback Cookie Gilchrist, injured last Saturday, will be able to play next Sunday in the Bills' American Football League season opener, the team physician says.

Gilchrist, who played with several Canadian pro teams before coming here last year from Toronto Argonauts, was injured in a pre-season game with Denver.

Rodriguez, from Puerto Rico, stroked a 69 to overtake the third-round leader, Dave Hill, who went to a 75, as they played together over the Denver Country Club's 6,774-yard par 35-35-70 course.

Al Balding of Toronto tied four other players for 11th place with 287. Balding shot 70-73-72-72 to win $360 in prize money.

Bill Eggers collected second-place money of $3,400 with a finishing 70 for 278. A stroke behind were Hill, Al Beiberger who also matched par at 70, and Jay Hebert, who had a 72. They each picked up $1,933.33.

TOP PRIZE TO PLAYER AS BIG THREE BATTLE

Waukegan, Ill. (AP)—Gary Player of South Africa defeated Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer in the $50,000 Holiday golf classic Monday.

Player, tied with Palmer after the opening round Sunday with 67 while Nicklaus had 68, finished with 35-33-69 for a four-under-par 136. Nicklaus, the PGA and Masters champion, carded 34-36-70 for 138. Leading money winner Palmer soared to 35-38-74 for a third-place 141.

The compact South African pocketed a first prize of $20,000, Nicklaus collected $16,000 and Palmer $14,000.

A strong wind kept the Glen Flora course record of 61 safely in the archives and made par 35-35-70 for the 6,382-yard layout look good.

Vicettes Crowned Softball 'Queens'

Victoria Vicettes, behind the steady pitching of Gail Archibald and solid hitting of Mavis Crook, captured the B.C. senior "B" women's softball championship Monday at Central Park.

Wally Yeamans' Vicettes edged Vancouver 6-5 in extra innings in their final game to hand the mainlanders their second loss in the double-loss knockout tournament. Victoria got through the tourney undefeated.

Miss Archibald, who relieved starting pitcher Josh Richmond in the fifth inning in the game against Vancouver, was named most valuable pitcher in the competition.

She led Vicettes to a two-hit 3-1 victory against Prince George on Saturday, and a 10-3 win over Vancouver Sunday.

Miss Crook, Vicettes' catcher, won the tournament batting championship, hitting .404.

Betty Mantyla of Vancouver collected the most valuable player award, edging Victoria's Carol Newcomb.

Victoria held a 4-1 lead in the fourth-inning of the final game Monday, but Vancouver battled back to tie it 5-5 in the seventh.

Vicettes finally got something started in the 10th when Miss Crook and Marion Alexander singled and Miss Newcomb walked to load the bases with nobody out.

Gill Thomas hit a fly-ball to left for the first out, then Louise Mason scored Miss Crook with a grounder.

Trick Marksman Slays Daughter While 300 Gasp

CALEXICO, Calif. (AP)—For the last five years, the father and daughter marksman act of Milo and Marilyn Ploof was a great favorite at public events in the Imperial Valley.

Ploof, known for 20 years as a trick shot artist, added his daughter to his act when she was nine. Ploof was known for shooting apples from Marilyn's head, or pieces of chalk from between her teeth, or bursting balloons tied to her head.

They received top billing Sunday in a shooting exhibition heralding the annual Dove Hunters Fiesta at the Calexico Gun Club.

Marilyn now 14, was killed instantly when she was shot through the forehead by her marksman father.

ONLOOKERS GASP

A gasp went up from about 300 onlookers as the girl, clad in blue jeans and a blue cowboy shirt, crumpled to the ground, a balloon bobbing in her hand.

Ploof shouted, "Call an ambulance," and ran to his daughter.

"It's all right, baby. Everything's going to be okay," he said, gathering the girl in his arms and dabbing at her forehead with his handkerchief.

Witnesses said Marilyn had just finished a stunt in which her 40-year-old father shot a piece of chalk from between her teeth.

They said a wind had risen just as Ploof was beginning his trick shots. He had made two unsuccessful tries in the balloon stunt before the fatal accident.

PET POINTS

By Dr. J. R. Enas

Do Goldfish Live to Ripe Old Ages?

Yes. A 25-year life span is not unusual.

CLINIC: Q.—"We purchased a male and a female goldfish about a year ago. Paul is doing fine, but Paula seems to have skin trouble. She has shed twice since we bought her. Is this a sign of trouble?"

Mrs. K. L. G. Warren, O. A.—Not necessarily. Females usually shed two times a year, males not as often. If Paula is active and eats well, and if her coat is clean and glossy, she undoubtedly is shedding according to her cycle. However, if the coat is dull and lifeless, and she is listless, have your veterinarian examine.

CLINIC: Q.—"This is not necessarily a pet question, but is one that has intrigued me for a long time. Is it true that a snake is immune to its own poison? Will he die if he accidentally bites himself?"

J. H. L. Camden, N.J. A.—He will die. His poison is no less deadly to him than to anyone else he may bite.

CLINIC: Q.—"I read recently about a disease known as heartworm which is affecting dogs in parts of New Jersey. Can you tell me more about it and what precautions I should take for my dog?"

K. G. G. Cape May, N.J. A.—Heartworm involves the building up in the bloodstream of worms (microfilaria, technically) until they block the passage of blood through the heart. The disease is spread by mosquitoes which transfer the microfilaria from the bloodstream of an infected dog and inject it into another. There are few noticeable symptoms in the disease's early stages, and the best precaution is periodic blood tests by your veterinarian.

Ask ANDY

HE GIVES AWAY
GRAND PRIZES

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia to Helga Harder, 13, Winnipeg, Man., Canada for her question:

Do earthworms lay eggs?

The earthworm is a biological wonder. He has no eyes, but he reacts to light. He has no ears, yet he reacts to sound. He has a system of blood vessels which is kept pumping by five pairs of hearts. His digestive system has a crop and a gizzard. One would expect such an unusual animal to have an unusual method of handling on life, and so he has.

Strictly speaking, we cannot refer to little Pinky as him or her, for every earthworm is both a male and a female. Each worm had two parents, but each parent is both a mother and a father. This makes for a complicated family life, but it does not bother the baby worms at all. The little fellows come from eggs that were left to hatch in the ground and they never meet either of their parents.

Every earthworm manufactures two types of reproductive cells. They are made in the regions between segments nine and 13, counting from the tapered head end of the worm's body. Behind this area, the worm is circled with a puffy ring called the clitellum. At certain times, the clitellum oozes forth slimy mucus.

A pair of earthworms starts a new family when the ground is moist and the light is dim. One parent may crawl a long way to meet the other, or the two may live in neighboring burrows. Each parent transfers a supply of male or sperm cells to the other. The clitellum oozes a flood of slimy mucus to help the microscopic cells to flow between the two worms.

Each worm now has a supply of male cells from another worm, plus a supply of female egg cells of its own. The slippery clitellum begins to slide forward over the worm's body. It gathers sperm cells and egg cells, and in a ring of mucus the male and female cells meet and fertilize. Each pair of cells is a worm's egg.

ESCAPES INTO THE GROUND

The mucus ring within the clitellum is now an egg sac. It slides forward and soon slips over the worm's head, and its sides seal themselves together. The egg sac or cocoon is no bigger than a grain of wheat. The parent worm leaves it on or in the ground, and after about two weeks the miniature eggs hatch into a swarm of miniature worms.

The worms which hatch from a cocoon have the same mother and the same father. But their father also became a mother and gave birth to a brood of youngsters. The father of this second brood was the mother of the first brood of worms. The youngsters measure eight to an inch. They soon escape into the ground and after two years are fully grown and ready to become mothers and fathers.

Poor Outlook For Youthful Job Seekers

TORONTO (CP)—Job prospects in the future for young Canadians are gloomy, Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Labor Congress, told a Labor Day luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition Monday.

Although the productivity of Canadian workers has increased, there is little improvement in the employment picture for young persons, he said.

"The Canadian labor force is expected to increase by 23 per cent in this decade and at the same time we are going to be confronted with major shifts in the nature of jobs. A youngster who enters school for years and then finds the talents he has acquired are not wanted is likely to carry the scar of that rejection for life."

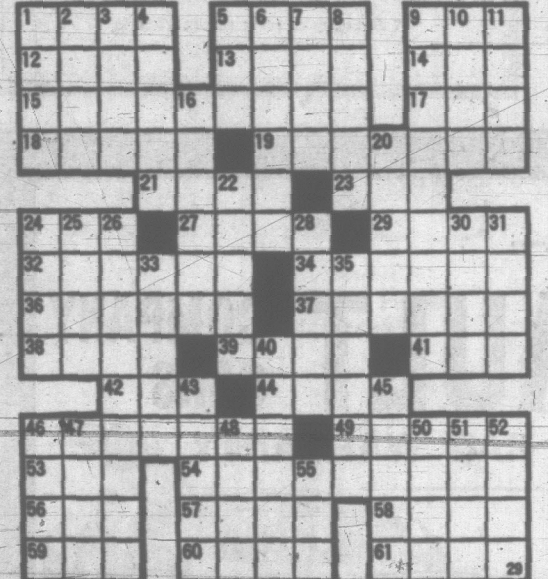

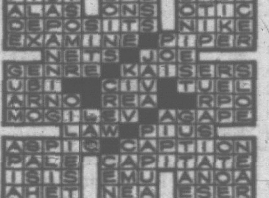

At a press conference earlier, Mr. Jodoin called for economic planning because of the "population explosion of the working force."

He said he would like to see a permanent joint committee of both labor and management working on a national scale.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—You never can tell how a girl will turn out. Take beautiful, glamorous, intelligent, talented Janet Leigh. She's become a motorcyclist.

"Now listen here," Janet retorted when I teased her about it, "some of Hollywood's very sophisticated people and businessmen ride motorcycles now! We're not nuts. We're not in the black jacket set. Parking's easy. Six of us parked our motorcycles in one automobile parking spot the other day—for one nickel."

"I'm scared of them," I confessed. "My dad used to call them devil-catchers."

"It's a challenge to control the machine under you!" Janet was warning to her subject. "Riding in traffic is fun. You ride up between the cars and inch ahead."

"Don't motorists yell at you for cluttering the highway?"

"Their highway! It's our highway!" Janet was kidding. Dean Martin, Steve McQueen, Keenan Wynn and her husband, Bob Brandt, board chairman of International Video, Tapes often ride together. Her husband gave her a Japanese motorcycle—not a scooter—for her birthday.

Janet often roars off to a party on her motorcycle. Not in an evening gown, of course.

Something—maybe the motorcycle—has given Janet new spark and beauty. She's excited about her new movie, "Wives and Lovers"; about a new house, "sort of an elegant log cabin," and the first anniversary (Sept. 15) of her marriage.

"I must tell you a story about my husband," she said. "When we were first dating, after I'd divorced Tony Curtis, people still called me 'Mrs. Curtis'."

"Bob would call the house and ask for 'Mrs. Curtis'. The day after we got married he went to his office, then phoned for me, and he said, 'Is Mrs. Curtis in?'"

All us married men know the poor man will never live it down.

Gold Bars Gone From Comet Jet

LONDON (Reuters)—Nine gold bars worth more than $100,000 were stolen from a British European Airways Comet jet which flew from London to Frankfurt last Thursday night, a spokesman for the airline disclosed Monday.

In Frankfurt, police said the theft was discovered when a mailbag was found split open during unloading at Frankfurt Airport, adding it is "almost 100 per cent certain the robbery occurred before the aircraft left London."

But the BEA spokesman in London said: "Security officers at London Airport have made their routine inquiries and are satisfied that the mailbag was quite okay when it left London."

Their report has been passed on to the Frankfurt authorities and the affair now is in the hands of West German police, he said.

"BEA does not receive any advice of the contents of mailbags. We merely convey them in the routine way."

It was the second such theft from a London-Frankfurt airliner within a year. Last November, gold bars worth a similar amount were stolen. Police have still not discovered what happened to them.

The gold bars, weighing about four pounds and in a special carton in the mailbag, were part of a "large consignment" being taken to West Germany, according to West German police. They refused to say where the gold originated or where it was being taken.

But West German police maintained the robbery occurred in England because "unloading began as soon as the airliner landed and there was no time margin" to allow thieves to board the aircraft and slit open the mailbag.

Those arrested were charged with disturbing the peace and released on bail pending appearance in court today.

Police said 4,000 of the estimated 75,000 persons who watched the canoes race into this city 75 miles northeast of Montreal stayed on for entertainment Sunday night, including a street dance that lasted until 5 a.m. Monday.

The trouble started after the dance, which police described as orderly, had ended.

"A few hysterical young men started dancing and screaming on the main street," a police spokesman said.

About 150 joined in the riot; They were all drinking beer, wine, and anything they could get their hands on and started throwing bottles and rocks, breaking several windows of the Manor Beaumont Hotel on the main street.

All 40 Shawinigan policemen moved in to break up the mob which had started building small fires in the middle of the street, feeding them with cardboard boxes and paper.

Police then arrested the 42 "A lot of the others escaped," the police spokesman said.

The canoes raced past the city about 4:30 p.m. Sunday and police said most of the trouble-makers were drinking steadily in city establishments until their Sunday midnight closing time.

"We don't know where they got it but most of them were apparently drinking pretty steadily after that right up until the riot," the police spokesman said.

A few fights were reported but there were no serious injuries.

The ringleaders of the melee were made up of both out-of-town and local young men between the ages of 20 and 30, police said.

Companion feature is a delightful French story, The Golden Fish, beautifully photographed and ingeniously devised.

Theatre Opening

VANCOUVER (CP)—Former University of B.C. president Dr. Norman MacKenzie will open the new 400-seat Frederic Wood Theatre in the fine arts centre Sept. 19. The old theatre, in a converted army hut, was opened by Dr.

Prize-Winning East German Red Defects to West

HAMBURG, West Germany (AP)—Professor Hans Mayer, East German National Prize winner and one of the most prominent Soviet bloc "liberal" intellectuals, has defected to West Germany.

Here on a lecture tour, Mayer announced Monday night he will not return to Leipzig University where he has taught literature for 15 years and gained an international reputation.

In 1955, he won the East German government's National Prize for his works on classical and modern literature. Since then he has fallen into official disgrace but his defection is expected to have a sharp effect among intellectuals in the Soviet bloc.

Mayer, 56, is a close friend of many leading Eastern writers and his calls for greater access to Western literature had echoed throughout the literary magazines of eastern Europe.

Between 60 and 70 cat-calling young men and women were arrested at Seaside, Ore., by police and national guardsmen Sunday night when rioting followed a mid-afternoon skirmish in which police broke up massed rioters into small groups.

And at Indianapolis, Ind., beer bottle-hurling drag race fans set repeated fires on a major highway early Monday in a 40-minute fracas that finally was quelled by troopers using police dogs and billy clubs.

Police said the trouble began when a young group started throwing firecrackers, bottles and rocks into a crowd and at police officers.

Several officers and firemen were reported injured slightly by the flying missiles and considerable damage was done to cottages, police cruisers and other equipment.

One girl was reported bitten "slightly" by a police dog while the disturbance was being put down. Tear gas was used only once to throw a curtain of smoke across a bridge between Hampton and Salisbury, Mass.

Police Chief John Roden said six police dogs were used as a last resort when the fire hoses failed to curb the rioters. He said the melee was initiated

Four-Year-Old Drowns in Lake

COWICHAN LAKE—A four-year-old Victoria boy playing in a boathouse fell into Lake Cowichan Saturday and was drowned.

Dead is William Harold Worsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Worsley, 4368 Torquay Drive.

Lake Cowichan coroner Colin Anderson said there will be no inquest.

The boy's parents were vacationing at a lakeside resort near here when the accident occurred.

The body was found in 30 feet of water by Arthur Eastham of Youbou, an hour after he was reported missing.

Mrs. Nels Olson of Lake Cowichan reported to RCMP at 2:30 p.m. the child and another boy were missing. A few minutes later the second boy turned up but there was still no sign of the Worsley boy.

OFFICER DOVE IN

Cpl. Bert Giberson, RCMP detachment chief here, started looking for the boy, diving repeatedly into the lake.

But it wasn't until 3:30 p.m. that Mr. Eastham located the body in 30 feet of water.

Arthur Fryer, a member of the Saanich fire department who was on a holiday at Cowichan Lake, administered oxygen and mouth-to-mouth respiration. But the boy failed to respond.

Police said the boy apparently tried to get into a boat in a boathouse and fell in the water.

In addition to his parents, the boy is survived by brothers,

Opening Delayed

TOFINO—Opening of Tofino-Ucluelet Secondary School has been postponed until Monday.

The delay is due to renovations and additions to the school which have been slowed by non-delivery of materials.

Catholic Church Reopens Sunday At Salt Spring

FULFORD HARBOR—St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church at Fulford Harbor, built in 1880, and closed for the past few years, again opened its doors for congregational worship on Sunday. Rev. William Mudge officiated.

The 83-year-old church was built by Rev. Donckele, first Roman Catholic missionary to the Gulf Islands. Working with him was Rev. Peter Rondeault, builder of the historic Cowichan stone church, also known as the "butter church." It was so named because Father Rondeault sold butter from his farm to help pay building costs.

The altar, windows, doors and other appertenances were later removed from the Cowichan Church and used for the Fulford church. The materials were transported by Indian canoes and hauled through Burgoyne Valley to the site of the church at the head of Fulford Harbor.

Two for the Show ... Over We Go

Looks easy to jump a pair of horses together, but the looks are deceptive. Demonstrating the necessary skill are Miss Pat Donaldson and C. C. Carpenter, contestants in the horse show at the 95th annual Saanichton Fall Fair over the long weekend. More than 200 horses were entered.

FULL-DESS ARAB looks like a denizen of the desert, but actually is a 12-year-old colt from Ireland's green hills. She was a feature of Sunday's Festival of Horses at the Saanichton Fall Fair on the long weekend, and is riding a horse owned by Mrs. Jean Dunbar. There were 23 entries in the festival. ## 200 Horses Take Part In Big Show

More than 200 horses made up the largest field ever at the three-day Saanichton Fall Fair horse show on the Labor Day weekend.

Top winner was Hindu Punch, a surprisingly spry 12-year-old thoroughbred, who cleaned up in five classes in the Monday show.

He is owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. Donaldson, and was ridden by Miss Pat Donaldson.

Features on Sunday were the junior horse show, and the Festival of Horses, a show of many breeds, whose uses were explained to the crowd of spectators by chairman Bud Mesher.

There were 203 entries, 179 of them "show" horses.

Among more unusual breeds represented were the Tennessee walking horse, hackney, Appaloosa, Clydesdale and quarter horses.

Judge of the show was Elton J. Fairbanks, of Pasadena, described by Mr. Mesher as "one of the top 10 horse judges in North America." Full results of the horse shows will be printed in Wednesday's Times.

ELECTION NOTEBOOK

House Speaker Won't Seek Re-Election

Speaker of the legislature Hugh Shantz will not stand for re-election.

He announced at his Vernon farm home that he will not be a candidate on Sept. 30.

His reasons: "Strictly personal."

But it was known for some time that Mr. Shantz, although a Socred, was at odds with some party policies—particularly the B.C. Electric takeover.

He also questioned Premier Bennett's decision to hold an election.

Mr. Shantz, 42, denied that he had become disenchanted with Social Credit after 11 years as the MLA for North Okanagan.

"I want to devote more time to my (investment) business, and particularly my family," he said.

But he admitted that he had been trying to quit for some months.

"I think you could have read between the lines before," he said.

He said he tried to quit in the 1960 election but was forced to run because "pressure by our party and the other parties was too strong."

He was appointed deputy speaker in 1953 and Speaker in 1958.

With seven sessions of the House under his belt, he was Canada's senior speaker.

His rulings often went against his own party, but it was not until the takeover that he publicly clashed outside the House with the premier.

Had he remained in the House during one more term of government, he would have surpassed the record of length of service for a B.C. speaker.

The Socred candidate in North Okanagan will now be former Okanagan-Revelstoke member of Parliament George McLeod. Mr. McLeod, 67, was in the House of Commons from 1953 to 1957.

Saanich Socreds will pick their candidate at a nominating convention at 8 tonight in Lake Hill Women's Institute Hall. It's expected to be former MLA John Tisdale, seeking re-election.

Candidates nominated over the weekend:

Chilliwack, Oscar M. Dayton; Abbotsford dairyman, Conservative; Skeena, Richard Toynbee, NDP; Kaslo-Slocan, Matt Maja, a logger, Liberals; Dewdney, Dave Barrett, NDP, seeks re-election; Fernie, Harry McKay, Liberal, seeks re-election.

Herbert Matthews, well-known Victoria lawyer, will seek nomination as a Liberal candidate for Victoria.

The Liberal nomination convention has been called for next Monday. Three candidates have to be nominated.

VICTORIA, B.C., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1963—PAGE 17

Didn't Assist NDP Planning Say Doctors

A prominent Victoria doctor said today it is absolutely untrue that he and a Vancouver doctor helped draft the NDP medicare bill.

Dr. Peter Banks, chairman of the economic committee of the B.C. section of the Canadian Medical Association, denounced the medicare plan as unrealistic.

NDP leader Robert Strachan named Dr. Banks with Dr. E. C. McCoy of Vancouver, executive director and former president of the B.C. section, as doctors who had helped him with his plan.

"This is not true," Dr. Banks told the Times today.

TALKED MEDICINE

"We have talked to Mr. Strachan about medicine. We would talk to Karl Marx about medicine—it's an interesting subject—but that doesn't mean we accept the Communist manifesto."

"I think this plan is unrealistic. It has no safeguards against over-utilization and spiraling costs and decreasing standards of service."

"We have had nothing to do with drawing this plan up, and at no time have we approved of this plan."

Mr. Strachan had said earlier that the doctors helped him. He was replying to a charge that he had ignored organized medicine in drafting the NDP scheme.

SEVEN POINTS PROBED?

Mr. Strachan said he discussed the seven-point program in December with Dr. McCoy and Dr. Banks.

Mr. Strachan had said that doctors didn't draft the bill, but the details that went into it followed many talks with doctors.

He named Doctors McCoy and Banks and said "We examined the seven-point program laid down by our convention. There was basically little disagreement."

SPENT WHOLE EVENING

"I am not saying we agreed on every aspect. We spent a whole evening going over the seven points so that I know their thinking on it."

He said an NDP government would discuss the draft of the bill with doctors before presenting it to the legislature.

Dr. McCoy said he and Dr. Banks met Mr. Strachan at a dinner party at Dr. Banks' home.

"We did not discuss Mr. Strachan's medicare program and I am at a loss to understand how he could possibly suggest that he did," said Dr. McCoy.

"We discussed the medical association's stand on medical care provisions and listened to his comments. But I have never seen Mr. Strachan's medicare plan and from our conversations I doubt that he had it prepared at that time."

The NDP leader said the medicare plan meets every one of 11 points laid out by the Canadian Medical Association as necessary to any comprehensive medical scheme.

"I am sorry that Mr. Strachan has misconstrued our efforts to assist him but I repeat that neither Dr. Banks, nor I, nor any representatives of the medical association have seen to this day any NDP medicare plan for British Columbia," Dr. McCoy said.

Motor Club Plans Night Owl Rally

Victoria Motor Sports Club has scheduled a night owl rally—a driving competition in the dark—starting at 8 p.m. Sept. 28.

Cars will leave the Town and Country shopping plaza for about 11 hours of driving over paved and gravel roads from Victoria to Alberni.

The rally will be a Canadian Automobile Sports Club championship event.

NEW CHIEF CONSTABLE J. F. Gregory shook hands with the city's chief magistrate this morning after an informal police commission meeting was held in Mayor R. B. Wilson's office to greet the new chief.

New Police Chief Meets City Staff

Victoria's new police chief, J. F. Gregory, met some of his staff and inspected part of the building as part of a busy round of introductions this morning to his new post.

"I have had an opportunity to meet only some of the department's officers this morning," he said in an interview. "But they appear to know their jobs well and I look forward to co-operating with them in maintaining a high standard of efficiency."

The new 43-year-old chief said he "picked up many ideas" for renovating the much-criticized police building in a tour of facilities at Vancouver, Edmonton and Calgary which he will discuss with the police commission.

BYLAW LIKELY
Mayor Wilson said the commission expected to discuss the existing building with Chief Gregory and added "there is a likelihood that we will be able to go to the ratemakers with a money bylaw this December for financing the needed renovations."

Chief Gregory said among facilities he observed in the modern police stations he visited were central registries to keep up-to-the-minute track of criminal activities and court cases.

A veteran of 24 years, both with the old provincial police and the RCMP, Chief Gregory reached the rank of staff sergeant before succeeding Chief John Blackstock here.

He is no stranger to Victoria, having served here about 18 months in the mid-1940s.

"The city certainly has expanded, particularly in the outlying areas, but I still recognize many of the streets and buildings," he said.

Motorist Dies After Nine Days

A 20-year-old married man, injured in a car crash on Trans-Canada Highway nine days ago, died Monday night at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Harold T. Ford, 1151 Colville, died of internal injuries he received when his car tumbled over a 25-foot bank after a rear-end collision near Helmcken.

Two couples who were riding with Ford survived and were released from hospital soon after treatment for minor injuries.

STRUCK TRUCK
Ford was driving his car when it struck the rear end of a parked pickup truck and catapulted over the bank, taking the pickup with it.

Driver of the pickup, Richard Pearsall, 17, of 1255 Hastings, was checking a rear tire when Ford approached from the south.

The two couples in Ford's car stayed in it but he was thrown from the car.

Ford, who had been supporting himself since he was 14, was married two and one-half years ago. He has no children.

The dead man was employed as a typewriter mechanic by Underwood Ltd. He had been with the company for six years.

SAFETY DRIVE PAYS OFF ON HOLIDAY

Vancouver Island was free of highway fatalities over the holiday weekend and there weren't even any serious accidents.

RCMP Inspector G. M. Mackay said this morning "Our safety crusade paid off."

Before the holiday the RCMP let it be widely known that highways would be patrolled by all available RCMP patrols and by "ghost" cars.

Insp. Mackay said the use of marked cars was as much a help as the "ghost" cars. Said the inspector: "The very sight of a police car makes speeders slow down."

Picture Loan At Art Gallery

Pictures by Canadian artists will be on view to the public at Victoria Art Gallery, 1040 Moss Street, tonight from 7:30 to 8 p.m.

Members may rent or buy these pictures after 8 p.m.

Jig's Up For 32,000 School Kids

This is the day the axe fell. For 32,000 children of school age, classes began this morning in schools from Sooke to Sidney, most of them in Victoria.

Now they have to knuckle down for a long winter.

Seven elementary schools are on the shift system because of crowding, and high schools are packed as tight as sardines even with the re-organized junior highs that relieve some of the bigger schools of grade 10 students.

Sooke school board expects about 3,000 pupils in grades 1 to 12 this year. Saanich school board has allowed for about 3,500, and the Victoria school board anticipates some 25,500 pupils will study in city schools.

Pupils were at school for only the morning, but regular classes begin in earnest Wednesday.

"We are disappointed that some units were not ready," said school's superintendent John Gough, "but we're not blaming anyone. There are so many imponderables. We're meeting the problem."

Leading Liberals Pailbearers For Cox Funeral

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. in First United Church for Arthur H. Cox, prominent Liberal and sportsman, who died Thursday in Winnipeg, aged 70.

Mr. Cox lived here for 62 years and was secretary of the Victoria Liberal Association for 25 years. He was a member of the party for 50 years.

Honorary pallbearers at the funeral will be Dr. Frank Fairley, Liberal leader Ray Perrault, Hon. R. W. Mayhew, George Gregory, Alan Macfarlane, Liberal president W. A. Gilmour, Ken Gowan and Alec McDonald.

The service will be given by Rev. R. Morris. Cremation will follow. McCall Bros. are in charge of arrangements.

TOPICS of the DAY

View Royal Garden Club will be holding its fall show Saturday in View Royal Community Hall, 279 Island Highway, starting at 2 p.m.

General admission is 25 cents. Children are free.

Door prizes will be drawn at 9 p.m.

Two Victoria girls, Maureen Work and Lynda MacLean have been awarded bursaries to study physical medicine therapy at the University of British Columbia by the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

Bursaries totaling $6,000 were awarded to 16 B.C. girls. Other Vancouver Island winners were Karin Anderson, Campbell River and Loverna Brown, Nanaimo.

An exhibit of water colors by William R. Cryer went on show today at Hartley's Picture Crafts, 748 Fort Street.

The show, which will include interior and exterior scenes and still lifes, will be open to the public for the next 10 days to two weeks.

Mr. Cryer, who only started painting in recent years, has had a previous showing at the Greater Victoria Art Gallery.

Alert Service Transfer Ltd., operated by R. M. Williams, 721 Robleda Crescent, celebrated its 40th anniversary over the weekend in the business of carrying Victoria's mail from street boxes to the post office.

Mr. Williams began with one vehicle Sept. 1, 1923, under a government contract and has built up the firm to a fleet of 28 trucks.

A meeting of St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. at Holyrood House.

RAINED-OUT CONCERT SET FOR TONIGHT

Sunday's rained-out concert at Butchart Gardens has been re-scheduled for tonight, starting at 8.

Heading this evening's bill will be pianists David Palmer and Charles Russ.

June Gruber, mezzo-soprano, and Adele Lewis, soprano, will sing solos and duets.

There will be no charge for the concert, except regular admission prices into the gardens.

Ask The Times

Q. I am curious to know the meaning to the Toronto football team's name—the Argonauts. What is an Argonaut? W.O.

A. This name goes back into Greek mythology. The Argonauts were the crew of Jason's ship when he went in search of the Golden Fleece. Argonauts was also the name applied to several parties of young immigrants from Eastern Canada to the gold fields of B.C.'s Cariboo country.

HONG KONG CHAPLAIN HERE

Churches Working Together To Aid Refugees in Far East

Nineteen Protestant denominations are now working as one in over-crowded Hong Kong.

"There is no greater ecumenical witness anywhere in the world today than in this combined approach to social welfare," said Rev. Walter H. Tonge, chaplain of Chung Chi University, Hong Kong, visiting Victoria on furlough.

"It is a real thrill to be part of this great effort." Slim, wiry Mr. Tonge was trained by the United Church of Canada, but considers this of little importance in the Christian climate of today.

"Hong Kong stands as a clear example of what is possible when men of faith combine their efforts regardless of denomination. I believe historians will write the epic of Hong Kong as one of the most glorious hours of British colonization.

"Never has the Christian church been given greater opportunity." Mr. Tonge said every time Communism opens its borders, there is a tremendous influx of refugees into Hong Kong and the strain on social welfare is acute.

"Take the populations of Montreal, Winnipeg and Greater Victoria and put them

BLITZ CITY'S FAMED CHURCH SEEN ON FILM

One of the most controversial pieces of post-war architecture, the new cathedral at Coventry, will be seen on film this Friday at 8 p.m. in Christ Church Cathedral.

The 45-minute film "Coventry Cathedral, Sacrifice and Resurrection" will be introduced by John Wade, consulting architect for Christ Church Cathedral.

Mr. Wade is personally acquainted with Sir Basil Spence, architect for Coventry Cathedral. He also has visited Coventry.

He will explain some of the principles involved, and the problems which must be solved in the rebuilding of a cathedral in the 20th century.

into an area of 12 square miles and you have some idea of the congestion in Hong Kong.

"Our greatest need is for trained dedicated leadership that will rouse Christians everywhere to the need for Christian welfare among under-privileged peoples."

Of Communist China, Mr. Tonge said:

"I am convinced movements are afoot which will lead the country closer to Socialism and away from Communism."

"The Communists have serious problems. They are faced by crisis after crisis and one crop failure after another. They are not secure in the saddle and never will be until they are capable of feeding their people."

"Bureaucratic bungling has brought the Communist ship to the very edge of disaster."

The minister was accompanied by his wife, a trained nurse, who works in a home for abandoned babies in Hong Kong.

"They literally receive little bags of bones and breathe life into them," he said. "Such work is a vital part of our Christian witness in the world of today."

Sunday Movies Success

VANCOUVER (CP) — It looks like Sunday movies, shown for the first time in downtown Vancouver Sunday, are here to stay.

Theatre managers up and down Granville Street strip were enthusiastic over Sunday's large crowds.

Most figured the larger-than-expected attendance was a combination of the holiday weekend, rain, and the novelty of movies on Sunday. But all expected big crowds to continue.

"We had a solid attendance," said one manager. "But we always knew Sunday shows would be successful."

Said another: "Judging by the line-ups, you'd think it was Saturday afternoon instead of Sunday."

And another: "We're off to a flying start. . . . Sunday shows are here to stay."

Since Sunday movies were approved in April, only three independently-owned suburban theatres have been open regularly.

The big chains—Famous Players and Odeon—kept their doors closed Sundays because of a disagreement with theatre workers unions over terms for Sunday work.

The dispute was settled last month and Sunday movies have finally become a reality.

CAOQUETTE BLASTS NEWSPAPERS

GRANBY, Que. (CP) — Canada needs a new school of journalism to fill an urgent need for reporters who are more honest and objective, the Quebec wing of the Social Credit party says.

The wing, le Ralliement des Creditistes, approved a resolution at its convention Sunday calling for such a school. The resolution did not mention who would finance the school or where it should be established.

Real Caoquette, deputy national leader and leader of the Quebec wing, criticized newspaper owners for not giving Social Credit enough publicity.

He said there was a "conspiracy of silence" surrounding the party's activities during the first part of the last session of Parliament.

He also said le ralliement will resume a series of television broadcasts in Quebec, setting aside $35,000 to pay for them.

Trade Talks Resume

OTTAWA (CP) — A Russian negotiating team arrived today to resume talks on reviving the 1960 Soviet-Canadian trade agreement.

Mailbags New Clue In Robbery

LONDON (Reuters) — Police investigating Britain's great train robbery put tracker dogs on the scent today in south coast areas where 14 mailbags and several pairs of gloves were found Monday.

Another search was made among rocks at the foot of cliffs near the resort town of Brighton where a single mailbag was recovered.

The searches continued although police officials said early today they accounted for almost all the stolen mailbags when the thieves' hide-out was found nearly three weeks ago.

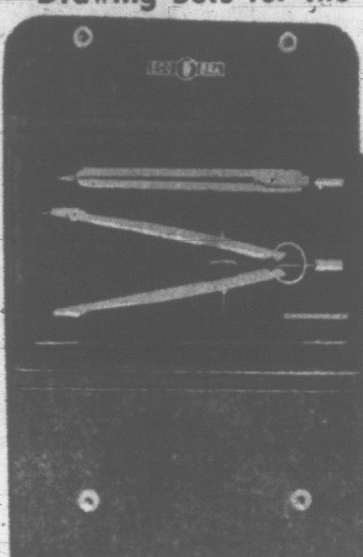

Bank officials today neared the end of close scrutiny of each bill recovered by police since the Aug. 8 mail train robbery which netted the gang £2,600,000 ($7,800,000).

The bills—about one-tenth of the loot has been recovered—were studied to see whether they could be identified or would tally with serial numbers provided by banks.

Eight persons have been arrested in connection with the robbery, and the others were ordered held in custody until a further hearing Sept. 10.

Where's Everybody Gone?

Back-to-school-day today means only loneliness for this youngster, a four-year-old who just isn't quite old enough to join her older friends in elementary classes. She is Lyn Gawiuk, 3463 Henderson, and her enthusiasm for school may not be matched by the 32,000 who did go.

Troops Keep School Closed

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—Governor George Wallace, risking federal retaliation, kept the Tuskegee public school closed by force today despite the local school board's reluctant willingness to obey a federal court desegregation order.

Blue-helmeted state troopers, redoubled in strength and supported for the first time by mounted sheriff's deputies, kept students and teachers out of the school to enforce the governor's orders to postpone the start of the fall term until next Monday.

Students in the Consolidated Elementary-High School were turned back as they approached the red-brick building for the second straight day even though the Macon County Board of Education said that as far as it was concerned the school was open.

Thus the 12-grade school—for whites only before the desegregation order—was ready for the return of pupils from the summer vacation but the 215 armed state troopers surrounded the building refused to let them in.

Col. Al Lingo, commanding the troopers, said only principal E. W. Wadsworth would be admitted to the building.

Even teachers were turned away because, Lingo said, "school is closed and they have no business in there."

Wallace issued a strongly-worded executive order directing the school board to postpone the start of fall classes in the one school Monday because of what he called the threat of violence.

The Tuskegee school was the only one affected by Wallace's order.

A parent, Mrs. P. M. Wadsworth, walked up to the ring of state troopers with a group of students and asked if they could enter. She got no reply, but the uniformed patrolmen stood steadfast and allowed no one even to cross the street to the school.

Mrs. Wadsworth asked the students, "Do you all want to go to school?"

When they replied "yes, ma'am," Mrs. Wadsworth appealed to the troopers. "Please tell Governor Wallace our children want to go to school."

There was no indication of federal intervention.

Six Quebec MPs Back Thompson

GRANBY, Que. (CP)—Two distinct groups of Quebec Social Credit members of Parliament—one supporting Robert Thompson, national party leader, and the other Real Caouette, deputy national leader, are the result of the weekend convention of the Quebec wing of the party.

The split in Social Credit ranks is expected to leave each man with 11 followers in the House of Commons, and two different Social Credit parties in Quebec province.

Mr. Thompson moved quickly after 500 delegates at a Le Ralliement Des Creditistes meeting overwhelmingly voted Sunday to disown him as national leader and also issued a call for a national convention to elect a new one.

He flew into Montreal Monday from his home in Red Deer, Alta., and a press conference was held later at which six Quebec Social Credit MPs pledged support to him as national leader.

Crews Back on Job After 6-Hour Tieup

By FRANK RUTTER

A wildcat walkout today halted provincial government ferry service between Nanaimo and Horseshoe Bay for six hours.

Disgruntled ferry crews refused to sail the Sechart Queen at 6:30 a.m. in protest against layoffs and working hours.

Three ferries were tied up all morning at Departure Bay and Horseshoe Bay.

TRUCK FLIPS, CRUSHES 5 CHILDREN

VIMY RIDGE MINES, Que. (CP)—Five children playing on a pile of boards were killed Monday in a freak accident when a heavy truck loaded with rock overturned on them.

Provincial police at nearby Thetford Mines, Que., said the ground suddenly gave way under the truck and it crushed the children when it flipped over sideways.

The five were Bruno Turgeon, 10, Bruno LaFlamme, 8, Solange Dupuis, 7, and Luc Martin, 6.

Police said Paulette Turgeon was taken to hospital with severe injuries.

The children were playing at a playground in Vimy Ridge Mine, 120 miles south-east of Montreal.

The men returned to work at 12:30 p.m. after they received assurances of meetings with ferry officials to settle their problems.

After a hastily-called cabinet meeting this morning, Premier Bennett told reporters, "They're sailing again."

Ferry manager Monty Aldous flew to Nanaimo to persuade the 60 striking crewmen to go back to work.

He agreed to meet their representatives in Victoria Wednesday "to get this resolved just as quickly as we can."

Mr. Aldous said he had been completely unaware of the grievances aired by the crews.

But E. P. O'Connor, secretary of the B.C. Government Employees' Association, which represents 400 ferry employees, said the whole problem was spelled out in letters he sent last week to Premier Bennett and the civil service commission.

Mr. Aldous said he had not been informed of either.

The premier said he had not seen the letter.

"It may be in my office," he suggested.

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson who left the cabinet meeting early to huddle privately with the premier said it was the responsibility of the ferry management to know its employees' problems.

THREATENED TO SPREAD

The strike was confined to Nanaimo and Horseshoe Bay, though crews at Tsawwassen and Swartz Bay threatened to join in if there was no speedy settlement.

Mr. O'Connor said the whole walkout could have been easily avoided if either the premier or the civil service commission had paid any attention to his warnings that esprit de corps and morale among the crews had sunk to low ebb.

The strike began at Departure Bay at 6:30 a.m.

Crews loaded the Sechart Queen, then refused to sail her on the first scheduled trip of the day.

The Queen of Sidney, which arrived from Horseshoe Bay, was unloaded, and reloaded, but again the crew refused to sail her at 8:30.

The crew agreed to move her when the Queen of Tsawwassen arrived with a full load, but refused to load the Tsawwassen for her return trip.

She sailed back to Horseshoe Bay empty.

The dispute revolves around Continued on Page 2

Seems what they need at Nanaimo is a ferry godmother.

Mister Thompson kin cancel his trip. He don't need 't go 't Australia 't be opposite 't Mister Caouette.

Jus' think o' all them silent, empty homes t'day.

KENNEDY CRACKS DOWN ON S. VIET NAM GOV'T

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy publicly cracked down on the government of South Viet Nam Monday night in a move apparently aimed at forcing the removal from power of the brother of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

If President Diem is unwilling or unable to remove quickly his powerful brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, U.S. officials indicated today the Kennedy administration will feel compelled to consider other measures.

These measures, it is understood, will include a review of the U.S. aid program with possible cutbacks to follow.

Kennedy told a country-wide television audience in an interview from Hyannis Port, Mass., that the war against Communist forces in Viet Nam could not be won unless the Diem government makes "a greater effort" to win popular support.

He said that changes in policy

B.C. Socreds today turned on Real Caouette, the man they once supported as national leader.

Attorney General Robert Bonner, suggested by the Caouette Quebec rebels as a new leader, said he would not be interested during the current provincial election campaign.

Labor Education Minister Leslie Peterson, who nominated Mr. Caouette for the leadership two years ago, said B.C. is not definitely not inviting Mr. Caouette or any Ottawa help for the campaign.

Wide Support For Thompson

CALGARY (CP)—Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta said Monday the breakaway of the "Caouette faction" from the Canadian Social Credit movement was a good thing.

He said the dispute will not affect the party in Alberta and the Quebec group has no right to elect a national leader.

EDMONTON (CP)—Orvis Kennedy, president of the Alberta Social Credit League, Monday called for the expulsion from the national movement of Deputy National Leader Real Caouette and his followers.

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Ontario Social Credit League today swung its full support behind National Leader Robert N. Thompson in his power struggle with Quebec Deputy Real Caouette.

SAINT JOHN (CP)—Dr. Langis Robichaud, president of the New Brunswick Social Credit League, has repudiated the stand taken by Quebec Socreds at their weekend rally and said New Brunswick Socreds stand fully behind Robert Thompson as national leader.

"and perhaps in personnel" are needed to produce victory.

The president, however, carefully refrained from advocating any specific plan of action for the Vietnamese.

As one official put it: "The Vietnamese will have to clean house themselves; we can't do it for them."

If Kennedy's warning is taken by dissatisfied elements in Saigon as a bid for revolt against the Diem government it would be no great surprise here.

However, officials said, the problem would be much simpler if Diem would handle the situation himself so the continuity of his office would be preserved.

Kennedy's outspoken criticism was coupled with an assertion that it would be "a great mistake" to halfheartedly assist to South Viet Nam.

U.S. aid to the small Southeast Asian country is running at $500,000,000 a year. The total during the last decade is near $3,000,000,000.

Two for the Show ... Over We Go
Looks easy to jump a pair of horses together, but the looks are deceptive. Demonstrating the necessary skill are Miss Pat Donaldson and C. C. Carpenter, contestants in the horse show at the 95th annual Saanichton Fall Fair over the long weekend. More than 200 horses were entered.

200 Horses Take Part In Big Show

More than 20 horses made up the largest field ever at the three-day Saanichton Fall Fair horse show on the Labor Day weekend.

Top winner was Hindu Punch, a surprisingly spry 12-year-old thoroughbred, who cleaned up in five classes in the Monday show.

He is owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. Donaldson, and was ridden by Miss Pat Donaldson.

Features on Sunday were the junior horse show, and the Festival of Horses, a show of many breeds, whose uses were explained to the crowd of spectators by chairman Bud Mesher.

There were 203 entries, 179 of them "show" horses.

Among more unusual breeds represented were the Tennessee walking horse, hackney, Appaloosa, Clydesdale and quarter horses.

Judge of the show was Eldon J. Fairbanks, of Pasadena, described by Mr. Mesher as "one of the top 10 horse judges in North America."

Full results of the horse shows will be printed in Wednesday's Times.

She was a feature of Sunday's Festival of Horses at the Saanichton Fall Fair on the long weekend, and is riding a horse owned by Mrs. Jean Dunbar. There were 23 entries in the festival. ## Ask The Times

Q. I am curious to know the meaning to the Toronto football team's name—the Argonauts. What is an Argonaut? W.O.

A. This name goes back into Greek mythology. The Argonauts were the crew of Jason's ship when he went in search of the Golden Fleece. Argonauts was also the name applied to several parties of young immigrants from Eastern Canada to the gold fields of B.C.'s Cariboo country.

ELECTION NOTEBOOK

House Speaker Won't Seek Re-Election

Speaker of the legislature Hugh Shantz will not stand for re-election.

He announced at his Vernon farm home that he will not be a candidate on Sept. 30.

His reasons: "Strictly personal."

But it was known for some time that Mr. Shantz although a Socred, was at odds with some party policies—particularly the B.C. Electric take-over.

He also questioned Premier Bennett's decision to hold an election.

Mr. Shantz, 42, denied that he had become disenchanted with Social Credit after 11 years as the MLA for North Okanagan.

"I want to devote more time to my (investment) business, and particularly my family," he said.

But he admitted that he had been trying to quit for some months.

"I think you could have read between the lines before," he said.

He said he tried to quit in the 1960 election but was forced to run because "pressure by our party and the other parties was too strong."

He was appointed deputy speaker in 1953 and Speaker in 1958.

With seven sessions of the House under his belt, he was Canada's senior Speaker.

His rulings often went against his own party, but it was not until the take-over that he publicly clashed outside the House with the premier.

Had he remained in the House during one more term of government, he would have surpassed the record of length of service for a B.C. speaker.

The Socred candidate in North Okanagan will now be former Okanagan-Revelstoke member of Parliament George McLeod. Mr. McLeod, 67, was in the House of Commons from 1953 to 1957.

Saanich Socreds will pick their candidate at a nominating convention at 8 tonight in Lake Hill Women's Institute Hall. It's expected to be former MLA John Tisdale, seeking re-election.

Candidates nominated over the weekend:

Chilliwack, Oscar M. Day-ton, Abbotsford dairyman, Conservative; Skeena, Richard Toynbee, NDP; Kasko-Slocan, Matt Maja, a logger, Liberals; Dewdney, Dave Barrett, NDP, seeks re-election; Fernie, Harry McKay, Liberal, seeks re-election.

Herbert Matthews, well-known Victoria lawyer, will seek nomination as a Liberal candidate for Victoria.

The Liberal nomination convention has been called for next Monday. Three candidates have to be nominated.

Didn't Assist NDP Planning Say Doctors

A prominent Victoria doctor said today it is absolutely untrue that he and a Vancouver doctor helped draft the NDP medicare bill.

Dr. Peter Banks, chairman of the economic committee of the B.C. section of the Canadian Medical Association, denounced the medicare plan as unrealistic.

NDP leader Robert Strachan named Dr. Banks with Dr. E. C. McCoy of Vancouver, executive director and former president of the B.C. section, as doctors who had helped him with his plan.

"This is not true," Dr. Banks told the Times today.

TALKED MEDICINE

"We have talked to Mr. Strachan about medicine. We would talk to Karl Marx about medicine—it's an interesting subject—but that doesn't mean we accept the Communist manifesto."

"I think this plan is unrealistic. It has no safeguards against over-utilization and spiraling costs and decreasing standards of service."

"We have had nothing to do with drawing this plan up, and at no time have we approved of this plan."

Mr. Strachan had said earlier that the doctors helped him. He was replying to a charge that he had ignored organized medicine in drafting the NDP scheme.

SEVEN POINTS PROBED?

Mr. Strachan said he discussed the seven-point program in December with Dr. McCoy and Dr. Banks.

Mr. Strachan had said that doctors didn't draft the bill, but the details that went into it followed many talks with doctors.

He named Doctors McCoy and Banks and said "We examined the seven-point program laid down by our convention. There was basically little disagreement."

SPEN WHOLE EVENING

"I am not saying we agreed on every aspect. We spent a whole evening going over the seven points so that I know their thinking on it."

He said an NDP government would discuss the draft of the bill with doctors before presenting it to the legislature.

Dr. McCoy said he and Dr. Banks met Mr. Strachan at a dinner party at Dr. Banks' home.

"We did not discuss Mr. Strachan's medicare program and I am at a loss to understand how he could possibly suggest that he did," said Dr. McCoy.

"We discussed the medical association's stand on medical care provisions and listened to his comments. But I have never seen Mr. Strachan's medicare plan and from our conversations I doubt that he had it prepared at that time."

The NDP leader said the medicare plan meets every one of 14 points laid out by the Canadian Medical Association as necessary to any comprehensive medical scheme.

"I am sorry that Mr. Strachan has misconstrued our efforts to assist him but I repeat that neither Dr. Banks, nor I, nor any representatives of the medical association have seen to this day any NDP medicare plan for British Columbia," Dr. McCoy said.

Motor Club Plans Night Owl Rally

Victoria Motor Sports Club has scheduled a night owl rally—a driving competition in the dark—starting at 8 p.m. Sept. 28.

Cars will leave the Town and Country shopping plaza for about 11 hours of driving over paved and gravel roads from Victoria to Alberni.

The rally will be a Canadian Automobile Sports Club championship event.

All Sidney Set to Hail Miss PNE

A great fanfare awaits the newly crowned Miss PNE, Linda Douma, when she arrives at Swartz Bay tonight.

Miss Douma, 19, who is also Miss Sidney, will be greeted at 6:40 p.m. as the ferry docks by a cavalcade of Sidney officials. Among them will be Don Russel, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Al Cormac, chairman of the village council, John Tisdale, MLA in the last House, and representatives of Sidney social clubs.

From the ferry dock the cavalcade will proceed to Sarsen Hall where guests on the platform will be introduced by president of Sarsen, Douglas Frizzell.

LONG SUCCESSION

Sidney has had a village queen since 1920. In 1954 they changed over from election by a panel of judges according to Miss Canada rules.

This year the queen contest was about to be dropped when Mrs. Vivian Cowan, Mrs. Stan Levar and Mrs. Frank Hunt organized a campaign to fight for a Miss Sidney of 1963.

Miss Douma is a second-year language student at the University of British Columbia and this summer has been queen of the gas pumps at her father's service station.

A veteran of 24 years, both with the old provincial police and the RCMP, Chief Gregory reached the rank of staff sergeant before succeeding Chief John Blackstock here.

He is no stranger to Victoria, having served here about 18 months in the mid-1940s.

"The city certainly has expanded, particularly in the outlying areas, but I still recognize many of the streets and buildings," he said.

Jig's Up For 32,000 School Kids

This is the day the axe fell. For 32,000 children of school age, classes began this morning in schools from Sooke to Sidney, most of them in Victoria.

Now they have to knuckle down for a long winter.

Seven elementary schools are on the shift system because of crowding, and high schools are packed as tight as sardines even with the re-organized junior highs that relieve some of the bigger schools of grade 10 students.

Sooke school board expects about 3,000 pupils in grades 1 to 12 this year, Saanich school board has allowed for about 3,500, and the Victoria school board anticipates some 25,500 pupils will study in city schools.

SAFETY DRIVE PAYS OFF ON HOLIDAY

Vancouver Island was free of highway fatalities over the holiday weekend and there weren't even any serious accidents.

Leading Liberals Pailbearers For Cox Funeral

Mr. Cox lived here for 62 years and was secretary of the Victoria Liberal Association for 25 years. He was a member of the party for 50 years.

He was also president of Victoria-Tyees professional baseball team in 1953 and 1954 and a past president of James Bay Athletic Association.

Honorary pallbearers at the funeral will be Dr. Frank Fairley, Liberal leader Ray Perreault, Hon. R. W. Mayhew, George Gregory, Alan Macfarlane, Liberal president W. A. Gilmour, Ken Gowan and Alec McDonald.

The service will be given by Rev. R. Morris. Cremation will follow. McCall Bros. are in charge of arrangements.

GRANBY, Que. (CP)—Two distinct groups of Quebec Social Credit members of Parliament—one supporting Robert Thompson, national party leader, and the other Real Caouette, deputy national leader, are the result of the weekend convention of the Quebec wing of the party.

The split in Social Credit ranks is expected to leave each man with 11 followers in the House of Commons, and two different Social Credit parties in Quebec province.

Two Blows Killed Boy

By DESMOND BILL

George Down was murdered by two blows on the head, one with a blunt instrument and the other with something sharp, a coroner's inquest revealed today.

This is the latest revelation in the case which began at 4:30 Friday morning when the body of the 17-year-old delivery boy was found on a ramp in the Hudson's Bay Co. Parkade.

But police say no conclusions can be drawn from the two different types of wounds on Down's head.

Detective Inspector Charles Webb said the same instrument, used in a different way, could have caused both wounds.

He said police do not think at the moment that the two wounds indicate there were two assailants.

ACROSS CANADA

121 Killed In Holiday Accidents

By The Canadian Press

Accidents took a grim, record-breaking toll of 121 lives in Canada during the three-day Labor Day weekend.

The worst previous count on a Labor Day weekend was 102 last year. The Labor Day record was still well below the worst three-day weekend in Canadian history when 172 persons died on the Dominion Day weekend this year.

The weekend's worst single accident, a two-car crash at Vilna, Alta., killed seven persons in one car and one in the other early Sunday.

A Canadian Press survey reported 73 traffic deaths, 26 drownings, 11 deaths by fire and 11 from other causes from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday local times.

A Pickering, Ont., mother, her three children and another child died early Sunday in a blaze that ripped through a rented summer cottage at Torrance, Ont., early Sunday.

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents during the long Labor Day weekend claimed a record toll of deaths in the United States, soaring far past the previous high for the holiday of 501.

The count at midnight local time Monday, the end of the 78-hour holiday period, showed 543 traffic deaths, topping the previous record set during the Labor Day weekend last year. Later reports were expected to increase the final total.

TRUCK FLIPS, CRUSHES 5 CHILDREN

VIMY RIDGE MINES, Que. (CP)—Five children playing on a pile of boards were killed Monday in a freak accident when a heavy truck loaded with rock overturned on them.

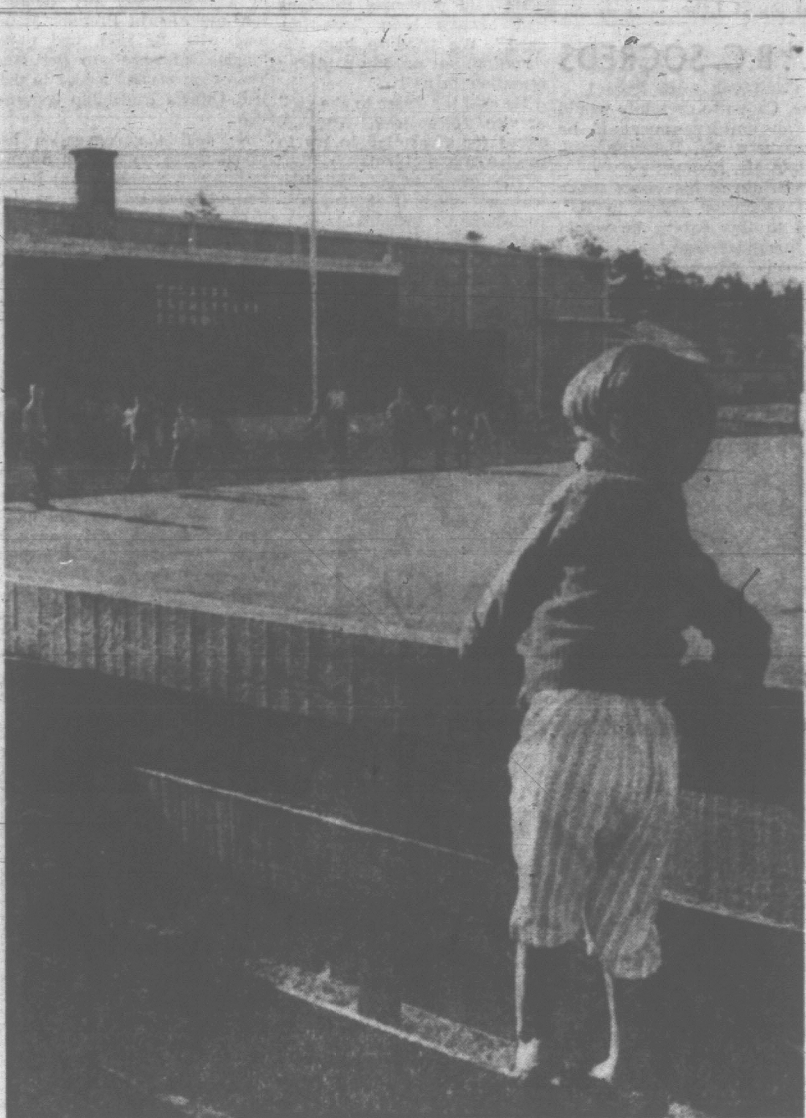

Provincial police at nearby Thetford Mines, Que., said the ground suddenly gave way under the truck and it crushed the children when it flipped over sideways.

The five were Bruno Turgeon, 10, Bruno LaFlamme, 8, Solange Dupuis, 7, Catherine Gregoire, 9, and Luc Martin, 6.

Police said Paulette Turgeon was taken to hospital with severe injuries.

The children were playing at a playground in Vimy Ridge Mine, 120 miles south-east of Montreal.

Service Hit At Nanaimo

By FRANK BUTTER

A wildcat walkout today halted provincial government ferry service between Nanaimo and Horseshoe Bay for six hours.

Disgruntled ferry crews refused to sail the Sechart Queen at 6:30 a.m. in protest against layoffs and working hours.

Three ferries were tied up all morning at Departure Bay and Horseshoe Bay.

The men returned to work at 12:30 p.m. after they received assurances of meetings with ferry officials to settle their problems.

After a hastily-called cabinet meeting this morning, Premier Bennett told reporters: "They're sailing again."

MEETING SET

Ferry manager Monty Aldous flew to Nanaimo to persuade the 60 striking crewmen to go back to work.

He agreed to meet their representatives in Victoria Wednesday "to get this resolved just as quickly as we can."

Mr. Aldous said he had been completely unaware of the grievances aired by the crews.

But E. P. O'Connor, secretary of the B.C. Government Employees' Association, which represents 400 ferry employees, said the whole problem was spelled out in letters he sent last week to Premier Bennett and the civil service commission.

Mr. Aldous said he had not been informed of either.

The premier said he had not seen the letter.

"It may be in my office," he suggested.

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson who left the cabinet meeting early to huddle privately with the premier said it was the responsibility of the ferry management to know its employees' problems.

THREATENED TO SPREAD

The strike was confined to Nanaimo and Horseshoe Bay, though crews at Tsawwassen and Swartz Bay threatened to join in if there was no speedy settlement.

Mr. O'Connor said the whole walkout could have been easily avoided if either the premier or the civil service commission had paid any attention to his warnings that esprit de corps and morale among the crews had sunk to low ebb.

The strike began at Departure Bay at 6:30 a.m. Crews loaded the Sechart Queen, then refused to sail her on the first scheduled trip of the day.

The Queen of Sidney, which arrived from Horseshoe Bay, was unloaded, and reloaded, but again the crew refused to sail her at 8:30.

The crew agreed to move her when the Queen of Tsawwassen arrived with a full load, but refused to load the Tsawwassen for her return trip.

She sailed back to Horseshoe Bay empty.

(Times News Services)

SRINAGAR, Kashmir—Rescue teams burrowing in the ruins of 60 earthquake-shattered villages near here have dug out 77 bodies and more victims were expected, it was announced here today.

The death toll may be higher than the 100 originally estimated, officials said.

At least 500 persons were being treated for injuries suffered in a violent quake which shook rural districts early Monday and destroyed an estimated 2,000 houses.

About 50 persons with serious injuries were being treated in Srinagar hospital and four were reported in critical condition. About 370 injured were being treated here and in other hospitals in the Kashmir Valley.

Srinagar, 10 miles from the quake area, was undamaged. Filmy mud houses in the rural districts were hard hit.

State Troopers Keep Alabama School Closed

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—Governor George Wallace, risking federal retaliation, kept the Tuskegee public school closed by force today despite the local school board's reluctant willingness to obey a federal court desegregation order.

Blue-helmeted state troopers, redoubled in strength and supported for the first time by mounted sheriff's deputies, kept students and teachers out of the school to enforce the governor's orders to postpone the start of the fall term until next Monday.

Students in the Consolidated Elementary-High School were turned back as they approached the red-brick building for the second straight day even though the Macon County Board of Education said that as far as it was concerned the school was open.

Catholic Church Reopens Sunday At Salt Spring

FULFORD HARBOR — St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church at Fulford Harbor, built in 1880, and closed for the past few years, again opened its doors for congregational worship on Sunday. Rev. William Mudge officiated.

The 83-year-old church was built by Rev. Doncke, first Roman Catholic missionary to the Gulf Islands. Working with him was Rev. Peter Rondeault, builder of the historic Cowichan stone church, also known as the "butter church." It was so named because Father Rondeault sold butter from his farm to help pay building costs.

The altar, windows, doors and other appertenances were later removed from the Cowichan Church and used for the Fulford church. The materials were transported by Indian canoes and hauled through Burgoyne Valley.

Diem's Brother Must Go

KENNEDY CRACKS DOWN ON S. VIET NAM GOV'T

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy publicly cracked down on the government of South Viet Nam Monday night in a move apparently aimed at forcing the removal from power of the brother of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

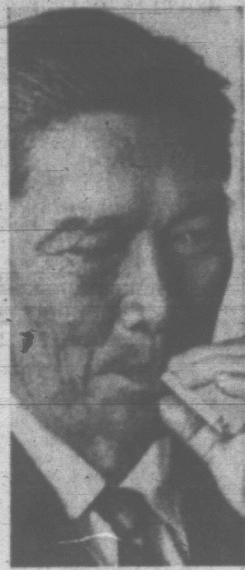

If President Diem is unwilling or unable to remove quickly his powerful brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, U.S. officials indicated today the Kennedy administration will feel compelled to consider other measures.

These measures, it is understood, will include a review of the U.S. aid program with possible cutbacks to follow.

Kennedy told a country-wide television audience in an interview from Hyannis Port, Mass., that the war against Communist forces in Viet Nam could not be won unless the Diem government makes "a greater effort" to win popular support.

He said that changes in policy "and perhaps in personnel" are needed to produce victory.

The president, however, carefully refrained from advocating any specific plan of action for the Vietnamese.

As one official put it: "The Vietnamese will have to clean house themselves; we can't do it for them."

If Kennedy's warning is taken by dissatisfied elements in Saigon as a bid for revolt against the Diem government it would be no great surprise here.

However, officials said, the problem would be much simpler if Diem would handle the situation himself so the continuity of his office would be preserved.

Kennedy's outspoken criticism was coupled with an assertion that it would be "a great mistake" to halt military assistance to South Viet Nam.

U.S. aid to the small South-East Asian country is running at $500,000,000 a year. The total during the last decade is near $3,000,000,000.
